Ailing Prime Minister Out

Leader Of Labor Party Calls For Election

LONDON (AP) — Sir Anthony Eden, choking back tears, resigned Wednesday night as prime minister—with the explanation his health prevented his continuing.

Richard Austen Butler, Conservative party leader in the House of Commons, seemed to most politicians to be Eden's likely successor.

RICHARD A. BUTLER
. . . next prime minister?

The leader of the opposition Labor party, Hugh Gaitskell, called for a general election "because the whole Cabinet has publicly identified themselves completely with the foreign policy pursued. . . in the last three months."

But Conservatives won their last election in May, 1955, and have three years to go before another is necessary. But as the majority party they could call one at any time they desired, or political developments could force them into one.

Eden Is 59

Eden, 59, stepped down while the repercussions still were sounding from the ill-starred invasion of Egypt he authorized in October. He resigned with "utmost regret," saying:

"I do not feel that it is right for me to continue in office . . . knowing that I shall be unable to do my full duty."

The new prime minister is expected to take office Thursday.

Butler, 54, is a cool, intellectual type who has spent most of his career as a quiet theorist in politics.

Macmillan Mentioned

Both he and Harold Macmillan, another possibility for the job, are short on what is known as "the common touch." But so was Eden. Macmillan, 62, is chancellor of the exchequer—boss of the nation's austerity program.

There still was a chance that a dark horse might emerge for the job, and among those mentioned in this category was Duncan Sandys, Sir Winston Churchill's son-in-law.

Eden succeeded Churchill in April 1955.

The dominant party in the House of Commons forms Britain's government. It normally designates the prime minister, subject to the approval of the sovereign, in this case Queen Elizabeth II to whom Eden submitted his resignation.

Sticks To Resolution

Eden, to the end, stuck by his determination "never to apologize" for the invasion of Egypt—a venture that split Britain and imperiled this country's relations with the United States.

In a farewell statement, he said only:

"When I returned to this country a month ago from a three weeks rest in Jamaica I hoped that my health had been sufficiently restored to enable me to carry out my duties effectively for some considerable time. That hope has not (repeat) not been realized.

"I do not feel that it is right for me to continue in office as the Queen's first minister knowing that I shall be unable to do my full duty by my sovereign and the country.

"I have therefore decided with the utmost regret that I must tender my resignation to the Queen which her majesty has been graciously pleased to accept."

Doctors "Anxious"

Four doctors — one the Queen's own physician — released a statement saying Eden's health "gives cause for anxiety."

Looking lonely and dejected, Eden rode alone to Buckingham Palace after bidding farewell to his Cabinet and top government ministers.

To those along the way, he seemed choked up and on the verge of tears.

After submitting his resignation to the Queen he did not return to 10 Downing St. With Lady Eden, he went instead directly to the official country home, Chequers.

21 Months Of Crisis

Eden's tenure — 21 months of crisis for Britain at home and abroad — was the second shortest of any British prime minister in the 20th century. Bonar Law served seven months in 1922-23, also blaming ill health when he resigned.

Ike Pays Tribute To 'Old Friend'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday voiced hope that his "old and good friend" Sir Anthony Eden, who resigned as British prime minister, soon will recover and enjoy "many useful years of happiness."

Eisenhower said in a statement read to reporters by press Secretary James C. Hagerty:

"I have just been informed of the official announcement of the resignation of Sir Anthony Eden as head of her majesty's government in the United Kingdom.

"Sir Anthony is an old and good friend of mine. During the days of World War II and since there have been few periods when he and I were not engaged in the study of some problem common to our two countries.

"Through the years I have developed for him a great respect and admiration.

"As foreign minister and then as prime minister Sir Anthony has been a dedicated leader in the cause of freedom . . ."

Gaitskell

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Hugh Gaitskell, British Labor party leader, called Wednesday for a general election in Britain.

"I am sorry," he said in a statement read to a news conference at Harvard University, "that Sir Anthony Eden's health has not recovered despite his trip to Jamaica.

"He has done the right thing in resigning, but as the whole Cabinet has publicly identified themselves completely with the foreign policy pursued by the late government in the last three months I consider that there ought now to be a general election so that the country can have an opportunity of choosing a new government."

Gaitskell is at Harvard delivering the three Godkin lectures—the second of which was scheduled for Wednesday night and the third Thursday night.

Attlee

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—Clement Attlee, former British prime minister, said Wednesday he is "very sorry" to hear that Prime Minister Anthony Eden's health "has broken down."

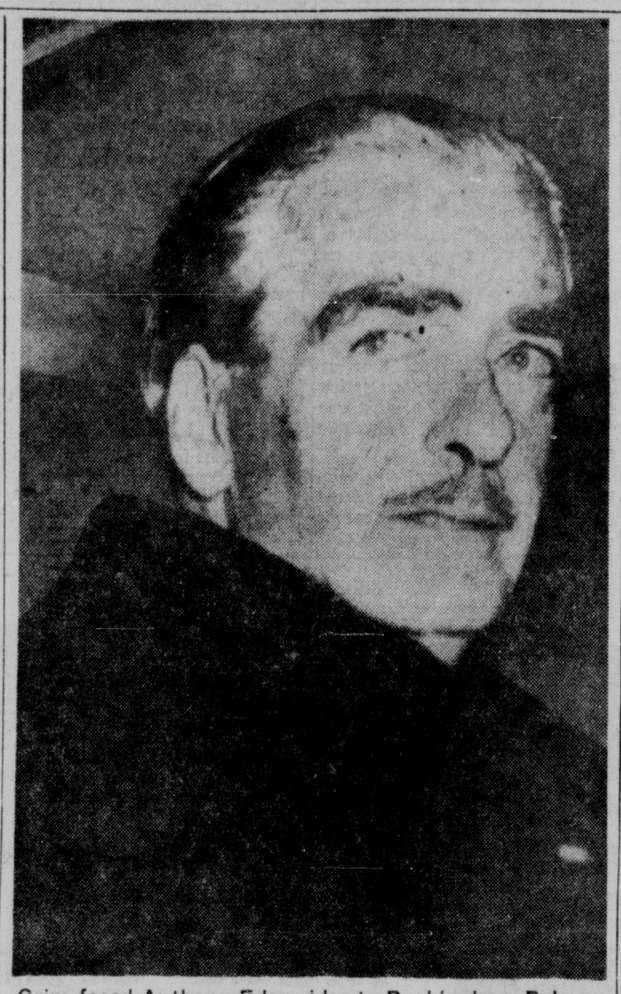

Attlee, former Labor Party leader in the British government, was informed of Eden's resignation as prime minister, when a United Air Lines plane on which he was flying to Iowa City, Ia., landed at Moline because of inclement weather.

Aid To Parents

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP) — If Johnny skips school now the entire city will know about it.

The Daily Highlander has begun printing lists of all high school student absentees.

The newspaper explained, "This is a service to parents who sometimes send their children to school, but find out later they did not attend."

Demos' Mideast Proposal Wouldn't Do Job—Dulles

. . . Secretary Attacks Substitute Plan

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Wednesday the proposed Democratic substitute for the administration's Middle East program wouldn't do the job.

He said it would fail to grant President Eisenhower "any authority" for the use of armed forces to protect a Middle Eastern state against Communist armed attack.

Dulles made a seven-point assault on the "short term" resolution which was passed along by House speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) as the work of a prominent Democrat Rayburn would not identify.

The secretary's criticism came shortly after Sen. Scott (D-NC) told the Senate that Dulles—whom Scott described as "the champion quick-change artist when it comes to diplomacy"—should resign in the interests of national security.

"If the President expects to keep this country on an even keel in foreign affairs," Scott said, "then he must have a secretary of state who generates confidence instead of confusion."

Scott linked his criticism to President Eisenhower's proposal pushed by Dulles, that Congress authorize the President to use American armed forces if necessary to block Communist aggression in the Middle East.

Integrity

The substitute proposal routed via Rayburn would say this instead:

"The United States regards as vital to her interest the preservation of the independence and integrity of the states of the Middle East and, if necessary, will use her armed forces to that end."

Dulles points are:

1. The Democratic proposal "could be interpreted" as designed to establish a United States "protectorate" over the Middle East without regard to the wishes of the countries themselves "and as such it might well be resented in the area."

2. The Democratic resolution "would not limit" the use of U.S. forces in the Middle East to "defense against armed attack, which under Article 51 of the United Nations Charter is the basis for collective self-defense."

External Attack

3. The resolution "seems to call for United States armed action to preserve the integrity of all the Middle East states not merely against a Communist attack but against any external attack."

4. The Democratic resolution "would seem to call for military action to overthrow a regime brought into power from without even though no violence were used.

5. The resolution "would not actually grant the President any authority with respect to the use of armed forces even to protect a state of the area, at its request, against Communist armed attack."

6. The Democratic proposal does not cover economic action by the United States in the Middle East, "which is of extreme importance and urgency."

7. The proposal "entirely ignores the U.N. and the importance of coordinating any national action with the authority conferred upon the U.N. by the charter."

Death Near For Bored John Graham

CANON CITY, COLO. (INS)—An unconcerned John Gilbert Graham, the 24-year-old youth who sent 44 persons to a horrible death, awaited his execution Wednesday lying on his death row cell bunk, listening to a radio.

Graham, a sullen child from a broken home and the product of the indulgence of a mother who spoiled him, continued to show no remorse over the murder of the mother or the 43 other persons who were blasted out of the sky Nov. 1, 1955, by a time bomb he had planted aboard a plush airliner.

As preparations went on in the dingy, cluttered Colorado Prison for Graham's one-way walk to the lethal gas chamber this week, the tall young man with a crew haircut wore the same deadpan expression on his face as when FBI agents charged him with the worst mass murder in the nation's criminal history.

Graham, who has grown plump on prison fare while waiting for the mills of justice to grind, was disinterested almost to the point of boredom at the prospect of being the second man to be executed in the new penthouse gas chamber atop the newly-constructed maximum security building of the prison.

Warden Harry Tinsley, who will probably pull the lever to send cyanide pellets into a vat of sulphuric acid at Graham's feet, said the youth wants to be left alone, just doesn't want to be bothered.

Tinsley said he has ordered guards to give Graham anything he wants to eat, but there have been no requests from the condemned youth.

'Slick Road' Driving Practice Urged

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Practice smooth driving, easy starting and easy stopping when streets are slippery and icy, advised Capt. Clinton C. Hurd, traffic director of the Lincoln Police Department.

Tire chains cut stopping distances about half, Hurd said, and give from four to seven times more traction than regular tires. But, he added, even with the help of the best snow tires or chains, slower than normal speeds are a "must" on snow or ice.

Hurd said it takes from three to twelve times as far to stop on snow or ice as on dry pavement. The best technique for stopping on slippery streets, he added, is a fast up-and-down pumping of the brake.

Hurd offered these aids to safe winter driving:

1. Reduce speed according to weather conditions and traffic, regardless of posted speed limits.

2. Be alert for pedestrians, because of shorter hours of daylight and treacherous roads.

3. Make sure your car is in top mechanical condition. Pay particular attention to lights, brakes, windshield wipers, defroster and tires.

4. Get the feel of the road when starting a trip. Wipe your shoes dry or free of snow before using foot pedals.

5. Use tire chains when roads are covered completely by ice or snow. Also, carry a sack of sand in your car for use if your car gets stuck.

6. Start, stop and pump your brakes gradually to avoid skids. Pumping the brakes will permit you to stop in a shorter space than when full pressure is applied.

7. If the rear of your car begins to skid, react immediately by turning your front wheels in the direction of the skid. Once you have overcome the skid either pump your brakes to slow down or lightly accelerate to continue moving.

Yemen Asks Red Troop Aid

. . . Against British

CAIRO (INS)—Yemen's minister to Egypt reportedly asked Russia for help Wednesday in the little Red Sea kingdom's frontier battle with British troops and planes in the neighboring Aden protectorate.

Arab sources said Minister Abdel Rahman Abu Taleb went to the Russian Embassy in Cairo for an urgent conference with Soviet Ambassador Evgeny D. Kisselev and asked for Kremlin aid.

(At the same time, a dispatch from Aden said Royal Air Force jet fighters had been ordered to aid troops and tribesmen resist what were called new attacks on Aden by Yemeni soldiers. The dispatch said Yemen regular soldiers and guerrillas were continuing "unprovoked attacks" on the protectorate.

(Both the British and Yemeni government have charged the other with aggression. Aden is divided into a small British crown colony and a 112,000-square mile protectorate under nominal rule of desert chiefs but actually under British guardianship.)

Cairo newspapers reported that a "virtual state of war exists on the Yemen-Aden border. Informed Arab sources recently reported that technicians from Red satellite Czechoslovakia already are aiding in building up the Yemen army.

The border dispute has flared off and on for 50 years.

Support of Yemen's cause already has been announced by Egypt and other Arab League states.

The Arab sources said Yemen was considering abrogation of her 1951 agreement with Britain which provided for marking of the border between the kingdom and the protectorate.

Yemeni sources said the government of Imam Ahmad would accept no solution of the dispute which did not give Yemen the whole of the Aden protectorate.

What A Town! Can't Even Get His Leg Frozen

An undentified man apparently has had bad luck in his attempt to store his leg in a deep freeze.

Police said a local cold storage locker firm telephoned them and reported a man had called and asked if he could freeze "a leg." The employe asked how long a leg and the man replied "it's my leg."

The startled employe informed the man the locker would probably not be large enough for a human leg, and suggested he contact another firm.

He did, police reported, and told the foreman he was going to have his leg amputated and wanted to freeze and store it. He was also turned down by the second company.

Snow-Blinded Autos Collide, Woman Dies

Lincoln Star Special

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb.—An Alliance woman was killed instantly at 1 p.m. Wednesday in a head-on auto collision 14 miles south of Plattsmouth on U.S. 75.

Mrs. Minnie Gerdes, 58, of Alliance, was driving south when her car collided with a northbound vehicle driven by Dr. Thomas D. Boler, 71, of Omaha.

Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon said Dr. Boler told him that the blowing snow had cut the visibility so that he did not see the Gerdes car until the impact.

Dr. Boler and his wife, who was a passenger in the car, were hospitalized in Omaha. Dr. Boler was believed to have suffered a leg injury and Mrs. Boler had severe face lacerations.

Dr. Boler was pinned in his car for about an hour and suffered leg injuries. Mrs. Boler, who was a passenger in the car, suffered face cuts. They are hospitalized in Omaha.

Prominent Wheat Grower

Mrs. Gerdes is survived by her husband, George, who was in Lincoln on business. He is vice president of the Nebraska Wheat Growers' Association. Gerdes is a farmer and rancher living 20 miles north of Alliance.

Mrs. Gerdes' death was the fourth in Nebraska so far in 1957 compared with eight at this time last year.

Surviving besides her husband are a son, Gene of Alliance; a daughter, Mrs. Garould Fairhead of Merriman; her mother, Mrs. Spetman of Alliance; two sisters, Mrs. Jack Dye and Miss Olga Spetman of Alliance, and three grandchildren.

Dr. Wild, 67, Dentist, Dies

Dr. Walter H. Wild, 67, longtime Lincoln dentist, died Wednesday night. He lived at 3126 T.

Dr. Wild was in private practice in Lincoln for many years and also was dentist at the State Penitentiary. He was a member of Grace Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Lillian; two sons, William of Texas City, Tex., and Jack of Wichita, Kas., and three grandchildren.

Budget Tie Vote To Be Held Over

8-Man Group Poses Problem

Members of the Budget Committee of the Nebraska Legislature have voted informally to hold a bill or budget matter for future consideration in the event of a four-four tie.

There was no provision in establishing the committee of eight members — done in a general revision of committee memberships —for breaking tie votes.

According to informed sources, an attempt was made in an executive session of the committee to rule that any measure receiving a four-four vote would be automatically killed.

Voted Down

This was voted down in the committee organization meeting, according to the report, by a large majority.

The effect of the ruling, which means any vote by the committee must be by a majority of five-three any way it votes, may have future consequences.

Considered one of the most important committees in the legislative set-up, the Budget group passes on all money matters going through the Legislature.

This includes funds for operation of the University of Nebraska, Normal Schools, Board of Control, and every other state agency and department. Any committee vote on funds for these agencies, because of the ruling, must be decisive.

Committee Members

Members of the Budget Committee are: Sens. Karl Vogel, Omaha, chairman; William A. McHenry, Nelson; Otto Liebers, Lincoln; Hal Bridenbaugh, Dakota City; Harry Pizer, North Platte; John Beaver, Beemer; Tom Dooley, Papillion, and A. A. Fenske, Sunol.

The committee formation change was effected at the beginning of the session. Besides cutting the budget group from nine members to eight, other committees were changed from nine to seven.

The effect of the change is to add one more committee to those hearing bills. It was believed this would make possible a shortening of the session.

Cenerazzo Claims Importers Hurting U.S. Watch Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter W. Cenerazzo, president of the independent American Watch Makers Union, Wednesday protested the assertions of importers that they were not hurting U.S. domestic watch production.

Cenerazzzo, testifying before a hearing in the office of Defense Mobilization, called upon the ODM to give the domestic industry and workers "a fair deal."

The hearings are studying the relation of the American watch and clock industry to defense and whether it is being injured by imports.

Testimony of the importers consumed most of the third day of the hearings.

Main theme of testimony by importers was that the domestic industry has no skills or facilities essential to defense.

Visibility Blamed In Death

Crops Boosted By Moisture

Below-zero temperatures chilled the state early Thursday as snow abated—leaving one death and snow piled as high as six inches in the western part of Nebraska.

Poor visibility was blamed in the traffic death of a woman near Plattsmouth.

Forecasters said that more cold air was moving in from the north and frigid readings were likely to continue through Friday. Thursday's highs were to be 5 to 15 above.

State-Federal Agricultural Statistician Arnold Nordquist said the snow "certainly is a great benefit."

Lincoln's snowfall measured four inches with .30 of an inch of precipitation early Thursday and snow had quit falling. Airports at Lincoln were closed during the storm.

Lincoln's temperature had dropped to one below zero by early Thursday morning.

Imperial recorded nine below early Thursday for the state's low. Earlier in the evening Chadron had recorded 11 below but by early Thursday had warmed to -3.

North Platte, Norfolk, Burwell, Grand Island, Scottsbluff, and Omaha also had temperatures in the subzero range early Thursday.

Nordquist said the wheat especially needs protection from the cold temperatures and four inches or more of snow is a fine protection. He said the soil moisture situation has been extremely dry.

Driving Hazardous

Packed snow in sheltered areas and towns make driving in the state "rather hazardous," State Engineer John McMeekin said. He noted that the northern border of the state had a great deal of packed snow, but said that no highways were closed.

The snow had ended across the state by early Thursday except for a few scattered flurries in the east. The main storm had moved into Iowa and Illinois by then. Strong winds whipped the already-fallen snow into ground blizzards at many points.

Shivering Ainsworth residents got only a one-degree rise in temperatures from an over-night low of -6 to a mid-afternoon reading of minus five. Six inches of snow had accumulated there by evening.

Visibility had been cut to three-quarters of a mile in north central Nebraska where between two and three inches of snow had fallen and winds estimated at about 30 miles per hour whipped the snow.

Snow depths early Thursday included six inches at Valentine and Ainsworth, four inches at Omaha, Grand Island, Bassett and David City; three inches at York, Lincoln, Harrison, Hastings and Nebraska City, and one to two inches generally over the remainder of the state.

Kansas Icy

Freezing drizzle in the southern part of Kansas, followed by snow, prompted a special weather advisory to motorists warning of extremely dangerous road conditions south of a line from about Kansas City to Garden City.

Snowfall in the state Wednesday included:

State Of Union Message Awaited

President To Deliver It In Person

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his Cabinet Wednesday reviewed the contents of his State of the Union message, which he'll deliver in person to Congress Thursday, and the budget message which goes to Capitol Hill next week.

This session capped stepped-up preparations for laying the administration's 1957 program before Congress, and for inaugurating Eisenhower for a second four-year term. Other developments included:

1. The White House changed signals and announced that newsmen, photographers, officials and diplomats would be barred from the private ceremony at which Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon will take their oaths of office Sunday, Jan. 20.

Newsmen Protest

Newsmen protested against the decision, which press Secretary James C. Hagerty said was taken because the crowd would be unmanageable.

Since the traditional inauguration day falls Sunday, the ceremonial, public oath-taking will be held a day later.

2. Hagery said there has been "some talk" of naming Nixon to the influential post of chairman of the Operations Coordinating Board during the adminiistration's second term. Hagerty said no final decision has been made on this possibility of expanding Nixon's responsibilities and prestige.

More For Welfare Dept.

3. Informed sources said Eisenhower will ask Congress for a record budget of more than three billion dollars for the Welfare Department in the fiscal year that begins next July 1. Most of the increase reportedly would be earmarked for aid to school construction and expansion of medical teaching facilities.

Hagerty dodged a question whether the message might outline a program for aiding the drought-stricken areas of the country which Eisenhower will inspect on a flying three-day trip starting Sunday.

Inaugural Medal

Here is the 1957 inaugural medal, souvenir of second inauguration of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon. It will be cast in silver and bronze. Two will be in gold, one for the President and one for Nixon. (International).

Reservoir System Flexibility Shown In Quick Freeze

OMAHA (AP)—The main stem reservoir system of the Missouri River gave another demonstration of its flexibility during December, the Missouri River reservoir control center reported Wednesday.

A quick freeze caused ice formation between Omaha and Yankton, S. D., blocked the channel of the river and caused sharp drops in river gage readings.

The reservoir control center at Omaha ordered an increase in the releases of water at Gavins Point Dam from the normal flow of 7,500 cubic feet per second to 8,000 with gradual increases to 12,000 CFS. This was maintained until Dec. 11; and then the flow was cut back to 8,000 CFS, thus reducing the severity and duration of the "sag" in downstream flows with the accompanying threat to water supply and sanitation requirements.

There was a temporary drop of 300,000 acre - feet in storage throughout the system during this operation, but this was recovered later in the month.

AF Jets Collide; One Pilot Killed

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (INS) — A jet pilot was killed and another injured Wednesday when two P-33 jet trainers crashed in midair while formation training near Tyndall Air Force Base.

An Air Force spokesman said the collision occurred as they were returning to base. One plane exploded on impact and the pilot, whose name was withheld, was killed instantly.

Lt. Tom O. Fulton of Greenwood, Miss., ejected himself from his single seater jet and parachuted to safety. Rescued by helicopters, he was reported in good condition at the base hospital.

Iowan Killed

FORT DODGE, Ia, (AP)—Robert C. LaBarre, 37, former state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce organization, was killed Wednesday in a traffic accident on Highway 169 near the Webster-Boone County boundary line. His home was in Algona where he was engaged in the insurance business.

Estes Is Tired Of 'Good Loser' Role

. . . As Kennedy Gets Committee Post

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Estes Kefauver—a gallant fighter in the clutches—is tired of being known as a "good loser."

The soft-spoken Tennessean confided Wednesday in commenting on the loss of the coveted vacancy on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Kefauver

The ruling of the Senate Democratic Steering Committee came as a bitter blow to Kefauver, who barely managed to beat Kennedy in a hot neck-and-neck race for the Democratic vice presidential nomination in Chicago last August.

'Unfair'

Kefauver, although he gamely congratulated Jack on the Senate floor, told this correspondent that he considers the appointment was unfair.

"There is no question but that I was entitled to it," he drawled. "I had the seniority over Jack, and I've wanted the post ever since I came to the Senate in 1949."

Although the Senate ordinarily is a jealous guardian of seniority rights, the leaders overrode Kefauver in favor of 39-year-old Kennedy, because the latter is much more popular with his colleagues.

Delighted

Jack, with four years less seniority than Estes, admitted: "I'm delighted. This is the realization of a dream I've had ever since coming to the Senate. My interest has always lain in the foreign relations field."

Kefauver ruefully declared that so, also, has his. He said the only excuse given him by the steering committee for its upset ruling was "Jack's entitled to one committee of his own choice."

With rare bitterness, Estes vainly pointed out that neither of the two committees on which he serves was his own "first choice."

Demo, GOP Leaders Join In Anti-Filibuster Try

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders joined forces Wednesday to offer a "middle ground" method of curbing filibusters, the legislative talkathons.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic chief, announced he would co-sponsor a resolution drafted by Sen. Knowland of California, his GOP opposite number, to halt filibusters by a two-thirds vote of those senators present and voting.

In order to limit debate under the present rules, 64 votes, two-thirds of the Senate's full membership, are required.

Johnson said the Knowland resolution appealed to him "as being based upon the middle ground which is the strongest to stand upon.

Any effective checkrein on filibusters could improve the chances of civil rights legislation at this session of Congress. Southern senators have frequently filibutered against civil rights bills and succeeded in talking them to death.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) announced earlier in the day that he and a nonpartisan group of colleagues were introducing 12 civil rights bills headed by a measure to provide federal protection of voting rights.

Wedding Set

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor John Derek and Swiss-born actress Ursula Andress plan to marry after his divorce becomes final, Miss Andress' studio said.

Former French actress Pati Behrs divorced Derek last April 3 on a cross-complaint charging mental cruelty. They were married in 1948. She was awarded custody of their two children, Russell, 5, and Sean, 2. The interlocutory decree becomes final in a year.

Arthur Dobson Estate Is Left In Two Trusts

Arthur A. Dobson, prominent Lincoln contractor who died Dec. 25, has left his estate in two trusts under a will filed for probate in Lancaster County Court.

One trust fund was provided for his wife, Alice M. Dobson, with power to designate its disposal at death.

The estate's remainder was left in a second trust to provide a life income for Mrs. Dobson, subject to prior "free of trust" conveyances.

An amount equal to five per cent of the second trust was left to each of the three children, Maren E. McConnell, Robert A. Dobson, and Adna A. Dobson, and collectively to the grandchildren.

Also five per cent of the trust was left to the University of Nebraska Foundation for scholarships, but subject to the life income for Mrs. Dobson.

The trust residue was left in specified shares to the three children or their surviving children.

Forty per cent goes to Mrs. McConnell, one-fourth directly and three-fourths in a trust from which Mrs. McConnell will receive the income with the residue going to her children. Each of the two sons is given 30 per cent of the trust.

Radio, TV Seeking Freedom Press Enjoys—Network VP

Radio and television are presently striving to gain the freedom of judgment and independence of news selection which the American press now exercises, CBS vice-president Ralph Hardy said Wednesday.

Hardy pointed to the "equal time" provision of the Communications Act as evidence that the radio-TV media is not on a comparable level with the press, and that ". . . the American public is being denied the normal news attention paid to candidates for public office."

According to this provision, radio and television media, if it permits any duly qualified candidate to appear under any circumstance, must afford equal opportunities to all other candidates.

Choose Candidates

"If we could use our own discretion in choosing the appearances of candidates," Hardy continued, "we would be able to serve our constituents with a more intelligent, objective news appraisal."

Hardy explained that legislation will be pressed in Congress, and a hearing will be sought before the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committees of both houses to change the appropriate section of the Communications Act.

Hardy spoke before a meeting of the Nebraska Broadcaster's Association, which hosted members of the Legislature, their wives and Gov. Victor Anderson at the Lincoln University Club.

Commenting on radio-TV coverage of the past political conventions, Hardy asserted that all networks are making a serious study of the "public attitude toward the amount of coverage afforded the Republican and Democratic conventions."

Different Next Convention

The approach toward the next conventions will undoubtedly be quite different, he explained, which will reflect itself in a convention planned "more for the people in attendance rather than the vast, invisible television audience."

Hardy said that in speaking to many Congressmen he has learned that political campaigning has been altered because of the widespread development of television.

"Congressmen say their constituents are much better informed than in previous campaigns," he declared, "and that they find the short speech, with time for a long period of questioning, the best form of political communication."

A delegate to the ninth World Conference of UNESCO in New Delhi, India, Hardy said that he readily noticed the impact which radio-TV media appeared to be having in the Middle East and Asia.

"It has become an important part of the thinking of all politicians," he said, "and nearly every government in the area tries to work as closely with its mass communication media as possible."

They seem to find it especially valuable in breaking down the language barriers, and in educating the masses of people.

Ex-Russ Envoy Asks U.S. Policy Act

Senators Hear George Kennan

WASHINGTON (INS) — Former Moscow Ambassador George Kennan told Congress Wednesday the time has come for a "basic policy decision" by the U.S. which would make it "easier" for Russia to withdraw from Eastern Europe.

Kennan said that the recent satellite upheavals and other events suggest something should be done to "put the U.S. in a forward position and put the Soviets on the defensive."

His testimony was given in a Senate hearing on disarmament which also heard President Eisenhower's special ambassador at the Korean peace negotiations say he did not think a "workable" world disarmament agreement is possible without Red China's participation.

GOP Target

Kennan, who served as U.S. envoy to Moscow during the Truman administration and has been a target of GOP campaign criticism, said he thought there is "much less danger" of Kremlin leaders launching World War III than there was from "man like Hitler."

He agreed with Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee that there is greater danger from Soviet "subversion" than from military attack. He also said he thought the Soviet economic offensive had been "overrated."

Kennan said he has never felt there was any great chance for multi-lateral agreement on arms reduction "as long as American and Soviet forces are face-to-face in Germany." That problem, he insisted has to be "tackled first."

Not Suitable

Kennan also said "public letters" like those between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin are not a "suitable method of reaching agreement."

The statement questioning the possibility of achieving any world disarmament plan without Red China's participation was made by Arthur Dean, former law partner of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who represented the U.S. at Panmunjom.

Root Of The Trouble

State Capitol Building Superintendent Lowell Lindquist looks at the rotting roots of one of the magnolia trees he ordered chopped down in the building's southeast court. Removal of the trees caused a great deal of sadness among statehouse employes who had long considered the trees with a source of pride. (Star Photo.)

Shed A Teah, You All, Capitol Magnolia Trees Are No Mo'

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

It may seem a bit incongruous to be talking about magnolia trees in the middle of near-blizzard conditions, but lots of people at the State Capitol are doing just that.

They're talking about the magnolia trees that used to be, but are no more. For much to the consternation of many statehouse employes, four of these trees, located in the corners of the southeast court, have gone down in defeat under the woodsman's axe.

Building Superintendent Lowell Lindquist ordered the trees chopped down for two reasons: they were becoming the victims of root rot and they were the favorite roosting spot of a large number of sparrows.

Lindquist is sorry about having to order them removed, but says it couldn't be helped. He explained that the trees had grown so tall and heavy they had to be tied to the building to prevent their falling down in high winds. Their roots had not developed properly because they were placed too close to the building.

It was a combination of this proximity to the building and the damage to the walls by the sparrows that made the trees' removal mandatory.

But here's a word of hope for those who will miss the beautiful, pink magnolia blossoms. Lindquist plans to replace them with a bush known as Rose of Sharon, which he practically guarantees will bring forth beautiful flowers to gladden the hearts of the magnolia lovers.

Reawakening

LUEBECK, Germany (AP) — A German art expert said a musty old painting hanging almost unnoticed in the Catherine church is a Tintoretto.

Prof. H. Schmalenberg, director of the Luebeck Museum, said the signature of the famous Italian Renaissance artist was discovered on the huge painting when it was being cleaned.

The picture, "the Reawakening of Lazarus," is dated 1576, and is almost buried under layers of varnish.

Lincoln's New Sign

Workmen stood off the Wednesday snow storm while they completed the erection of a new traffic safety sign on the Tenth street side of the city hall lawn.

They must have found little comfort in the cold task but it was a timely act. One was reminded that this is the winter season, the time when snow swept highways are dangerous. And one was also reminded that this is the beginning of a new year—one which again provides the opportunity to break the 300 mark in a 12 months period of highway fatalities. Nebraska reduced its total by eight during 1956 but it did not break below 300.

The new sign, which replaces an older one, lately dismantled, provides for a daily accounting—a place for the number of days without a traffic death. Those we want a lot of. There is a space for total fatalities to date. We could do without any. And there is a space for the number of injuries to date. This is a factor in traffic losses far too little regarded.

It is just a sign. But back of it is a thought—a big one. It calls for replicas in the mind of every Lincoln and Nebraska driver, a constant reminder that this state is out to set safety records, to bring highway death and injury to the irreducible minimum of only accidents that are unpreventable.

If anyone takes the sign lightly we suggest that they recall that Nebraska had more than 300 killed last year and a great many more seriously injured.

Right Direction

The Lincoln Charter Revision Committee rates a pat on the back for its decision to restrict the community's revenue bond authority in the matter of issuance of bonds to take over the electric distribution system of the Consumers Public Power District prior to 1972 without vote of the people.

That is the way it should be.

Under the provisions of the law and in compliance with repeated promises by Consumers Public Power District, those distribution lines come to the people of Lincoln in 1972, debt-free, and upon payment of one dollar. What more could we ask? We're getting excellent electric service from Consumers. The distribution lines in this city are being maintained and operated to the complete satisfaction of all of us. The rates are most acceptable. The electric consumer here has not been gouged. He enjoys cheap electricity, particularly by comparison with other communities and other states.

Were we to take steps at this time to acquire the distribution system from Consumers in Lincoln, it would involve steps of condemnation unless an agreement could be reached between the city and the district. We would be bound to pay whatever price was determined upon in that manner. Now, 15 years is not a long time to wait, when those distribution lines come to us, debt-free, and upon the payment of a dollar. The action of the charter revision committee should go a long way toward clearing up questions which may have arisen in the minds of the people of Lincoln. Nothing could be fairer in connection with any proposal to issue millions of dollars in bonds for the distribution system of the electric property than to put it to a vote.

There would be no severance charges to pay, charges to be anticipated should action be started prior to 1972, and charges which in the nature of things would be costly.

Eden Steps Out

Sir Anthony Eden's decision to resign as Britain's foreign minister is a logical development in an unfolding and as yet unmeasured tragedy. Eden's fortunes were interwoven with the Middle East. It was up to him to retain Britain's life line to the Orient, and Britain's entree to Middle East oil at any price. Losing one was bad enough to render his hold upon the post of prime minister uncertain and tenuous—but losing both spelled his doom from the very beginning.

The immediate question in the capitals of the world will be Eden's successor. Of the top two—Lord Privy Seal Butler and Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold MacMillan, neither commands the whole-hearted support of all factions of the Conservative party, the news columns state, a party split by the controversy over the decision to intervene in Egypt.

Time will bring Eden his vindication although he has been under heavy fire in recent weeks. It was a case of damned if he did and damned if he didn't. That in a measure, at least, reveals the desperate position in which the Western world—and particularly Britain, France and the United States find themselves in the Middle East. In the case of Eden, the fall of his government was inevitable. Only an irresponsible optimist could see him safely through the continuing storm, and its stresses.

Now where do we go from here?

Does Eden's resignation mean that the British government will perform a right about turn and initiate new policy in Egypt and in the Middle East? If that happens then Secretary Dulles and the American State Department will find that they danced on the tight rope too long. Will Eden's resignation strengthen Eisenhower's appeal to Congress for new authority in meeting the mounting emergencies in the Near East? It would be a rational view to conclude that Ike's hand for additional authority has been strengthened.

But from the very beginning until now it has been a pretty sorry story for the Western world in the Near East. We can talk about our success there but the facts suggest that we have lost ground at every turn in the road. Eden's resignation confirms it. He is not the type of man in his long experience in British affairs to quit under fire. Much more logically we can conclude that he sees the handwriting on the wall either before others do or are willing to concede it.

Wrong Step

Three newsmen entering Communist China for the purpose of fact gathering have been threatened with the revocation of their passports by the State Department.

Such a position is most ill-advised and calls for more than casual examination as an action inimical to the American right of the freedom of the press. It instantly raises formidable questions. One is why should the State Department be disposed against fact finding in China when it is to be carried out by accredited, dependable members of the American press? As an alternative is the American reader more desirably served by whatever the State Department chooses to give, or by what is written as propaganda by the Chinese themselves? And what of the pursuit of news itself? Is it to be permitted at the judgment of the State Department or is it to be used as bargaining stock with the American press a petitioner for privilege at the terms of the State Department? No press can be free under such conditions.

It is to be hoped that the State Department, which doubtlessly took a thoughtless position, will correct its course swiftly.

Well, That's That

We don't know what becomes of people who make dire predictions that don't come true. But we know what becomes of those predictions. A few years ago America was warned that a combination of industrialism and the increasing number of employed women would seriously reduce the national product of children. Well, industrialism continued to grow and more women went to work and here is the score. For the third straight year American births have exceeded four million. Fathers 10 years out of college have almost as many children per family already as those who graduated 25 years ago.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

"Governments may be worried about the Middle East, inflation, atomic weapons, but the world's natural scientists are getting alarmed over over-population," the Christian Science Monitor observed in a recent issue. Now, there is one for the books. Up until this last decade, those supposed to know had figured Uncle Sam's family might expand to 160 million men, women and children, and at that point level off to remain virtually stationary thereafter.

★

In light of the greatest population increase in American history in the decade between 1940 and 1950, plus a continuation of the upward climb since then, the experts have revised their sights. In 18 years, or by 1975, the United States will have a population of 221 million people. It will be strong and prosperous, we can be sure, wholly unlike the impoverished masses of the old lands of Asia, where there have always been hunger, suffering, misery and where we are fearful there always will be undernourishment and poverty. But move the clock ahead another 43 years, to the year 2000, and if present population trends continue, the United States will have a population of an approximate 300 million. "Do you know," the Monitor asks, "that currently the population growth in the United States—that is, the rate of increase—is higher than it is in crowded India?"

All Of That Is Changed

Well, there is a fascinating vista spread before the eyes of the people of this country. "Over-population (with which India and to a lesser degree, China have struggled for a long time) is not just a matter for India and China. It is expected to become the greatest domestic problem in the United States in another half a century. Do you think the country is crowded now? Wait half a century if you want to see a real crowd." If all of this comes true, then indeed the year 2000 could become well worth seeing. What about New York City, where today in the metropolitan area 10 million people live? And what about rapidly growing Los Angeles, where uninterruptedly the stream of humanity month after month has added 30,000 newcomers to the population? We could well anticipate that New York itself will boast of a larger population than some of the smaller countries of Europe and other continents—while Los Angeles in increasing degree spreads out until it incorporates within its boundaries a huge chunk of the mainland.

★

If we're troubled now with surpluses of food, what will be the situation 43 years hence when the population of the United States, enjoying the highest standards of nourishment of any people in the world, will have doubled? What can we anticipate, if the mind is imaginative enough, in the insatiable appetite of a population of 300 million for necessities and luxuries? Each year we may not be building five million new automobiles but instead at a minimum it will take 10 million. Each year we will be digging in on our supplies of gasoline, our forests for lumber, and under the ground for our ores, particularly iron, to keep up with the procession. Shall the night ring with laughter and shall the day bring endless throngs to the streets of the cities? It will be a fascinating nation because heretofore any nation which became so greatly over-populated invariably saw a decline in living standards.

An Insatiable Appetite

In this bright young new world, by contrast to the older continents, we still can conclude that the best is yet to come.

Nixon Abandons Line Of Taft

WASHINGTON—A lot of backstage huddles plus careful planning preceded Vice President Nixon's ruling that part of Senate Rule 22 regarding filibusters is unconstitutional.

Nevertheless, some old guard senators almost dropped dead with surprise.

Richard Nixon has long been the darling of the Taft conservative wing of the Grand Old Party. It was this group which stuck by him last summer against Harold Stassen, demanded that he be No. 2 on the ticket. So its surprise was understandable.

When the last attempt to change filibustering came up, it was Bob Taft who killed any change. Taft stuck by the long-standing alliance between northern Republicans and southern Democrats whereby the Republicans stood with the South on anti-Negro issues and the South stood with Republicans on anti-labor issues.

The new Nixon, however, once a Taft disciple, did just the opposite.

The new Nixon not only junked the old GOP-Southern alliance, but did so despite an advance call from three Republican senators—Knowland (Calif.), Saltonstall (Mass.), and Bridges (N.H.), urging him to stay in line.

What Old Guard Republicans didn't entirely know was that Nixon also was called on by the northern liberals. Some of them even came to his home at night. One committee of six came to his office—Ives (N.Y.), Smith (N.J.), Potter (Mich.), Republicans; and Douglas (Ill.), Humphrey (Minn.), and Anderson (N.Mex.), Democrats.

"We're not trying to put you on the spot," said Anderson, who had been chosen to lead the fight. "But we think this is bad legislation."

"What are you really getting at?" Nixon asked.

"We think it's outrageous for one Senate by a majority vote to be able to bind all future Senates no to change a rule except by a two-thirds vote" replied Anderson. "We think it might be unconstitutional."

☆ ☆ ☆

NIXON WAS PREPARED

Nixon agreed. It was obvious he had been studying the matter. Finally Nixon said:

"I'll be ready to rule when I come back to the chair from lunch at about 2 p.m."

At 2 p.m., however, Nixon beckoned to Senator Anderson on the Senate floor to come up to the rostrum. The debate was in progress. The public had no idea what was happening.

"Don't let him make his inquiry," he whispered, referring to Humphrey, "until I get my papers. I want to go into this very carefully."

Anderson hurried over to Humphrey, whispered: "Hold your horses. Don't move until he notifies us."

The debate droned on. Finally Anderson saw a clerk bring some papers to the vice president. He edged over to the rostrum and whispered: "Are you ready?"

Nixon nodded. Anderson gave the signal to Humphrey, and the senator from Minnesota asked the question which gave Nixon a chance to advise that part of Rule 22 on filibustering was unconstitutional.

Black Walnuts Are For The Squirrels

As long as eating stays modern, which it seems sure to do for at least one more generation, there will always be some enemy of society around who sends his friends a peck of black walnuts just before Thanksgiving.

We used to have such a friend. We had him, in fact, until yesterday. That was when I tried to shell, hull or otherwise separate the meat from the nut. Black walnuts do not come apart easily. As a result they are rough on friendships.

A man who would send you black walnuts as a present doesn't deserve human trust.

My wife assures me that black walnuts make the most delicious turkey dressing this side of Utopia. I do not know how she knows, because personally I am beginning to doubt that anyone has ever seen the inside of a black walnut, and I'd hate to bite into a wad of dressing that had a whole one in it. Human teeth are equal to Brazil nuts, English walnuts and even cheap steaks, if you don't care what happens to your fillings.

But a 10-ton stamp mill would bounce off a black walnut with the rind on.

It was this fixation of Mrs. F.'s about turkey dressing that got me into trouble. She handed me the basket of walnuts and said, "If you'll get the meat out of these, we'll have the grandest stuffing you've ever tasted." She handed me, also, a nut cracker. It was one of those with two jaws, hinged at one end. You put the nut between the jaws and squeeze.

I put a black walnut in the nut cracker and squeezed confidently. There wasn't even a creak out of the nut. I put one of the nut cracker's handles on the floor and stepped on the other one. All it did was sprain my ankle when I slipped. I went to the basement for a hammer.

The nut cracker was not very sturdy. When I put the walnut in it again and tapped one end smartly with the hammer, the hinge gave way. I must have tapped more smartly than I realized, because half of the nut cracker surged upward, much as a rocket might. They do not make plaster as strong as they used to. Fortunately, when Mrs. F. came in to see what the noise was about, I was able to divert her attention from the hole in the ceiling.

"I read once," said Mrs. F., "that the way to crack them is to hold them with your fingers pressing on the ends and tap them at an angle through the axis with a hammer."

"That's it!" I said, starting for the garage. "The axis—I mean, the axe, is the very thing." It was necessary to delay for a minute while I explained to Mrs. F. that I wanted the axe merely because it provided a thick piece of steel, relatively flat, on which I could hold the nut while hammering it.

And, indeed, that was all that was in my mind at the moment.

☆ ☆ ☆

Possibly I should have taken the whole shebang outside. That way, when the nut slipped out from under the hammer it would simply have spent its velocity a couple of miles away. There might have been a story in the paper about someone carelessly firing a rifle in town, but we would still have the glass in our front door.

Taft Wing Left Without Champion

WASHINGTON—The announced retirement from the Senate of Minority Leader William F. Knowland in 1958 will leave the conservative wing of the Republican party without an effective national spokesman in the two years of crucial maneuvering before the 1960 national conventions.

It reflects the fact that changes in the Republican party under President Eisenhower, including the growing power of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, have tended more and more to isolate and belittle Senator Knowland.

He has strong ambitions and not much subtlety. He knows that, for whatever reason, the Senate has proved historically a poor stepping-stone to the White House. It became a dead end for Senator Taft, whose mantle fell on the senior senator from California.

☆ ☆ ☆

Since President Eisenhower's two illnesses, and especially since the election, Knowland has seen his fellow Californian, Vice President Nixon, take on more and more the role of the administration's principal spokesman, a role normally assigned in the Senate to the leader of the President's party. Basking at such close quarters in Nixon's effulgence doubtless has not contributed much to Knowland's contentment with his present situation.

Release of the news of Knowland's intention was as much of a surprise in California as it was in Washington. First press reports speculated heavily on the prospect that he would run for governor of California in 1958.

Knowland's reasons for retirement would apply double to Knight who, if he succeeded in getting elected to Knowland's seat, would be cast in the role of a very junior senator immediately prior to the nominating conventions.

No one, including the Democrats, has questioned the likelihood that Knowland, an exceptionally well-known figure in his state, could be re-elected. His retirement means that California will now be placed among the doubtful states for the Republicans.

Republican prospects for success in 1958 were already in doubt as a simple matter of mathematics. They will have more than twice as many seats at stake than the Democrats.

Knowland's action will spread further gloom among the members of the old Taft wing of the Republican party. They may not be entirely dispersed, but they have been virtually leaderless in the face of President Eisenhower's absorption of New Deal programs and policies, increasingly evident as his second administration is about to begin.

Even in the matter of spending, the Eisenhower administration is outdoing the New Deal. The new budget includes the highest total for the non-military expenses of government in history. Demands for new programs in many fields may run future costs even higher.

Five-Year Battle For Clay's Dogs And Cats

By MONA B. PARKER

Francis Rea received a postcard on December 30 at the Schuyler Sun office from a California friend expounding the virtues of that wonder land, with the report, "Temperature 74 and sunny." But the message incited no spark of envy in the editorial breast. The reading the same day in Schuyler was 62, and the skies were equally sun-filled. And the same day, also, he observed at least a dozen gardeners watering their lawns, others raking, some walking around in shirt sleeves—and the topper—someone taking a sun bath.

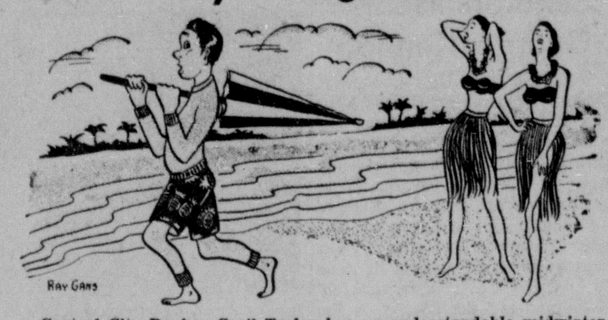

☆ ☆ ☆

Dick Howe of the Albion News received an erector set from his wife during the holidays, simply because she was tired always of "seeing me drool and hearing me smack my lips every time we walked past an erector set display."

And was he embarrassed at the gift? Not a bit of it. His only complaint—Frau Howe got the small beginner's set without motor.

The Clay County News swears it has been approached by a practical-minded local maiden lady who wants to convert the numerous and increasing prairie dog population into a profitable business venture, and at the same time provide more house pets for companions for others of her ilk. Her plan, as explained to the nature editor of the News, is to start raising cats for lonely women. With the company incorporated, she will lease acreages now taken over by prairie dog colonies, enclose them with tight fences and let the cats feed on the dogs.

Central City Banker Cecil Tooley has an understandable midwinter yen to get away from all matters cold . . . weather . . . cash . . . and the glances of rejected borrowers. So he and his missus were making preparations for a trip to the Hawaiian Islands. Modeling the vacation garb he proposed to wear there, however, he displayed the typical financier's caution and the midwesterner's respect for rapid weather variation. The Bermuda shorts were flashy enough and brief enough for a place on the beach at Waikiki, but no one the other side of the coral reefs has ever seen them worn over the "long handles" that stave off the icy blasts that sweep over Nebraska . . .

"It will be nip and tuck which will out-last," she says, "but as I see it after a careful analysis, there will be at least five years of a cat-eat-dog life for the cats and the dogs. And we should net at least twenty to fifty per cent capital stock profit yearly."

☆ ☆ ☆

It was one for the comic books, even in this big wide contradictory country we live in. Buffalo County Sheriff and Mrs. Lloyd Frank saw it in the Deep South where they were vacationing . . .

"Health resort for sale—money maker," the advertisement read. "Reason for selling: poor health."

B. J. Bates is no piker when it comes to birthday celebrations. And when it's his own anniversary to be considered, does he just sit around coyly waiting for someone else to throw a shebang for him? No, siree, he inserts a sprightly front-page notice in the local paper, greeting one and all with: "Hello, there! Say, folks, come to the Legion Hall in Lodgepole between 2 and 5 o'clock on Sunday, and have a cup of coffee with Old Bert Bates on his 90th birthday."

A child's remembrance of things that were and things that are is enhanced by the veil of years, says Reva Evans of the Gordon Journal. . .

"Seems to me when I was a youngster, the wind blew oftener and with more ferocity than as of now . . . Probably air currents were not much different then than they are today, but memory has a way of presenting an exaggerated view of things . . . better, worse, larger, greener, more terrifying, sweeter, more beautiful. ."

CONTINUED DROUGHT

Presents Cattle Industry Crisis

By CHARLES DENTON
International News Service

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Traditionally taciturn cowmen of the Southwest are watching the progress of winter nervously, fearful that it may bring them the worst calamity in their history.

Although it may at last bring the water they so desperately need, a cruel winter, sweeping along behind seven years of drought like the second wave of an invasion army, could mean final defeat for already stricken ranchers.

Until a month ago, drought was the chief concern in this country where the cowman has become such an institution that his rugged dress is emulated by bankers and butlers.

Drought has stripped the ranges as bare as tabletops, increased the cost of livestock ranching far beyond its rewards and forced cattlemen to sell off many of their cattle — some 500,000 in Texas, 250,000 in New Mexico and perhaps 200,000 in Arizona.

But about 10 million cattle remain on the ranges of the three drought-ridden states, eight and one-half million of them in Texas. They are in no condition to withstand the rigors of a severe winter.

Thin and sickly from improper and inadequate feeding during the drought years, they are susceptible to fatal illnesses, and particularly to the chill of snowstorms or the freezing mists that have afflicted portions of Texas in past winters.

☆ ☆ ☆

Charles A. Stewart, quiet, conservative executive secretary of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Association, stated flatly that the general condition of cattle in his state is "the worst in recorded history."

"If we have an unusually severe winter," he warned, "it's going to be a calamity. The cattle are so thin they just couldn't stand it.

"They're like exhausted men. They couldn't survive something like a blizzard."

☆ ☆ ☆

Fortunately, the winter has begun mildly and shows signs of remaining that way. Actually, it is far too mild. Thus far it has failed to bring the rain or snowfall in the high mountains that would help to break the fearsome drought.

If moisture does not come by late spring and the cattlemen must face another year or two of drought, catastrophe will be slower in coming but almost as certain.

"We have reached the point," Stewart said thoughtfully, "where another year like this last one is really going to deplete the cattle population.

"Texas is now in the worst position it has ever been in as far as cattle are concerned. Too many of the growers just can't stand another year of drought."

☆ ☆ ☆

With the mounting cost of supplementary feeding removed from their shoulders, cattlemen will be eager to replenish their breeding herds, and those who have liquidated their holdings entirely will be shopping for thousands of cattle.

This demand, coupled with that of farmers who will find themselves with revitalized pasturelands on which to graze a few head, will force the depressed price of cattle upward and inject new life into the business of growing beef for the nation's dinner tables.

But this promise of prosperity looks like a mirage to the cattlemen now as the rough hand of the drought forces them inexorably backward toward the chasm of despair.

Executive Power

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The President has asked Congress for stand-by authority to use United States forces in the Middle East. Does the President need such a grant? Can Congress give such authority?

The President is commander-in-chief of the armed forces. This is a constitutional authority, with no strings attached. The Supreme Court in the case of Marbury vs. Madison declared that Congress may not alter a constitutional delegation of the court's jurisdiction by congressional action.

It is suggested by Mr. Dulles that the President wants this as a way to define or express a Mideastern policy that he wishes the Russians to know about. There are good precedents for announcing such a policy in a message to Congress without any request for action on the part of Congress. President Monroe thus announced the Monroe Doctrine.

There is grave danger in asking Congress for power that the President already has. It misleads the public both at home and abroad. If the delegation is made, it can be assumed that the President would not have the power except for the act of Congress, and when the act expires, the public will question the executive's right to exercise the power.

Is it possible that the President needs the advice of a constitutional lawyer to help him, or just a plain eighth grade education to enable him to read Article II of the Constitution? Abraham Lincoln made out with the latter and acted on his own to save the Union without even calling Congress in session for almost five months.

Two Leaders

North Loup, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We all ought to be thankful to the British and French governments for ending the war between Israel and Egypt. Dulles used appeasement and bluff and Dag Hammarskjold used persuasion and both failed miserably. Eden and Mollet took the bull by the horns and ended the Israel-Egyptian war, which the U.N. could not and would not do. Let's give credit where it is due. Eden and Mollet saved all nations from a third world war. They showed us the way and were leaders when the world needed leaders.

Joint Chiefs Would Consider A-Weapon Action If Ordered In Ike Doctrine

WASHINGTON (INS) — Administration sources said Wednesday that the Joint Chiefs of Staff would seriously consider employing atomic weapons if ordered under the Eisenhower doctrine to halt Communist aggression in the Middle East.

The powerful U.S. Sixth Fleet, America's "big stick" in the Mediterranean, already possesses sufficient power including nuclear capabilities to strike rapidly at any Red attack, sources explained.

Marine Corps Commandant Gen. Randolph Mc.C Pate was quoted last week as saying that Marines attached to the Sixth Fleet are now equipped with atomic shells for their artillery.

Although his statement caused the administration much embarrassment, no official denials of this fact were issued.

All Sixth Fleet planes are capable of delivering atomic bombs and the fleet Marines are expected to be equipped soon with guided missiles which could use atomic warheads.

Defense Department officials stressed that the possible use of atomic weapons under the Eisenhower doctrine was still in the stage of preliminary study and no decisions one way or the other have yet been made.

The final decision to use atomic weapons would rest on the President.

In case of a small brushfire war, they explained the U.S. now has enough power here and in the Mediterranean to crush it.

Different Types

Military sources explained that each case of aggression in the Middle East would call for different types of action.

For example, if it appeared that a Communist attack could be stopped by using conventional weapons only, then atomic weapons would not be employed.

But this could be decided only after attack was imminent or had started and could not be specified in advance, sources explained.

Most military men believe that initially any Red aggression in the Middle East would most likely be regarded as a brushfire type war.

Garfield Annexation Decision To Be Made January 22

Annexation of the Garfield School District will come before the Lincoln Board of Education for final decision on Jan. 22.

Nearly three months ago, the Garfield district petitioned for annexation to the Lincoln school district and the city district sought annexation of the area by the City of Lincoln.

Lincoln Supt. Steve Watkins, advised that the Garfield district's petition can not be considered valid after 90 days, said Thursday that the matter would be finally considered by the board of education at its regular meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 22.

Jan. 27 Deadline

County Supt. Glenn Turner said Jan. 27 is the deadline for either approval or disapproval by the Lincoln district because of the 90-day limitation.

The Garfield district petitioned for annexation as a solution to its enrollment and financial problems, largely attributed by its board to the number of trailer courts within the district.

The Lincoln school board was advised this week of the city's lack of desire to initiate the Garfield annexation.

Observers feel the Lincoln board of education looks with less favor now upon the proposed annexation of the Garfield district by the Lincoln schools than when the proposal was made more than two months ago.

However, most observers feel it's the only practical long-range solution to the Garfield district's enrollment problems.

Attack Fatal For E. G. Hinton, Civic Leader In Omaha

OMAHA (AP) — Edward G. Hinton, 69, Omaha business and civic leader, was found dead in his car Wednesday night after the vehicle crashed into a large billboard at 45th and L streets in South Omaha.

The coroner's office ruled the death was due to a heart attack.

Hinton retired in 1954 as general manager of the Armour and Co. Plant in Omaha and recently had been vice president of the Omaha Neon Sign Co.

He was a former chairman of the city parks and recreation commission and a former member of the board of Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha civic group.

SEN. HRUSKA TO JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Operations Post Goes To Curtis

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reshuffle of Republican assignments to Senate committees Wednesday put Sen. Jenner of Indiana on the Finance Committee and Sen. Hruska of Nebraska on the Judiciary Committee.

Sen. Curtis of Nebraska goes on the government operations committee.

The assignments, worked out by a GOP Committee on Committees, were ratified unanimously at a closed conference of all Republican senators.

Ranking Republican

The reshuffling of committee assignments made Sen. Curtis of Nebraska the ranking Republican member of the Senate Rules Committee.

Sen. McCarthy (Wis), Jenner (Ind) and Barrett (Wyo) were ahead of Curtis last year but Jenner and Barrett have left the committee. Since McCarthy is top Republican on the Government Operations Committee, he stepped aside to allow Curtis the top place on rules.

Curtis also was assigned to the Government Operations Committee, giving up his place on the Post Office Committee.

Sen. Hruska was reassigned to the Public Works Committee.

Ceresco Has More Telephone Lines To Lincoln, Wahoo

Installation of additional circuits has given Ceresco telephone subscribers better service to Lincoln and Wahoo, according to Ed Dorland, area mamager of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company at Wahoo.

Calls from Ceresco to Lincoln, up 25 per cent since 1933, average more that 1,100 a month or about 40 in an average business day, Dorland said.

The calls are now being handled over three circuits instead of two. Three lines instead of two also will handle calls from Ceresco to Wahoo.

The additional circuits had been planned for last year but delays in obtaining central office equipment held up completion of the work, Dorland said.

Ike Expresses No Regret At Eden Act

. . . Improved Relations Predicted

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday wished Sir Anthony Eden a speedy recovery and "many useful years of happiness" but expressed no regret at his resignation as British prime minister.

In this capital, there was a widespread feeling that the Eden resignation cleared the way for a substantial improvement in relations between Washington and London.

Diplomatic authorities speculated on the possibility now of an early meeting between Eden's successor and Eisenhower to restore British-American co-operation disrupted by the split over Egypt.

Eden himself had tried to arrange a meeting with Eisenhower in late November or early December but his overtures were rebuffed.

It was said then that Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles did not want to appear too chummy with either Eden or French Premier Guy Mollet so soon after Eden and Mollet had sent their troops into Egypt and been denounced for that action by the United Nations and the United States.

Prestige

Eisenhower and Dulles felt they had gained prestige and influence in the Middle East and Asia by their Egyptian policy which might be lost if Eden or Mollet came here too quickly.

But beyond this consideration, officials said Wednesday, there was a fundamental loss of confidence in Eden and his policies in Washington.

The same loss of confidence may be said to apply also to Mollet.

Eden's resignation thus was privately welcomed by Washington authorities. Their reaction moderated, however, by regret that a man who had on so many occasions and in so many ways worked for British-American co-operation should have gotten himself into a predicament where the breakdown of that co-operation perhaps contributed to his reasons for stepping down.

Many Years

Eisenhower issued a statement on Eden's action which said "Mrs. Eisenhower and I extend to him and to Lady Eden our hopes that Sir Anthony will soon fully recover his health so that he may have many useful years of happiness ahead."

The statement spoke of Eden as "an old and good friend. . .a dedicated leader in the cause of freedom. . .a staunch believer in the need for unity among the community of free nations."

"Through the years," Eisenhower said, "I have developed for him a great respect and admiration."

When a newsman asked James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, whether diplomatic protocol prevented the President from expressing "regret" at Eden's departure, Hagerty pointed to the paper in front of him and said, "that's the statement."

Friendliest

Dulles told newsmen:

"I have known Prime Minister Eden for a very long time indeed and have had the friendliest relations with him.

"I regret that his health was such that he had to resign, and I hope that he will have many more years of health and happiness."

In contrast to the view held by officials here, many Britons also have blamed Dulles' maneuverings for the breakdown of co-operation between the two nations.

Only Wednesday Sen. Scott (D-NC) said in a Senate speech Dulles should resign "in the interest of national security."

State Board:

'Amelia School Shouldn't Get Free Tuition'

The two-year high school at Amelia should not receive free high school tuition money, the State Board of Education claimed in a brief filed with the State Supreme Court Wednesday.

The district has appealed a Lancaster County District Court ruling that it be denied tuition money because for three consecutive years its enrollment has been less than 10 and because it is within 15 miles of another high school.

The state board has argued that the school, Dist. 288 of Holt County, is 10½ miles from Chambers High School "over a reasonably improved highway" which is partly state highway and partly county road.

Statutes provide withholding of tuition from a substandard school if it is within 15 miles of another school.

The Amelia District has argued that the school should not be closed and should continue to receive tuition money because the 10½-mile road sometimes is impassable in the winter. Another route between the Amelia and Chambers schools is 17 miles.

Legislative Bills

Bills introduced in the Nebraska Legislature Wednesday:

LB 89, Waggoner—authorizing Board of Educational Lands and Funds to give University of Nebraska a sewer easement in Lancaster County.

LB 90, Waggoner—raising from $1 to $3 the daily fee paid witnesses in county courts.

LB 91, Waggoner—authorizing municipalities to prohibit drilling or maintenance of water wells within 1,000 feet of municipal water wells.

LB 92, Tvrdik, Vogel—relating to gifts of securities and money to minors and making the law uniform with reference thereto.

LB 93, Stryker, Simmons—authorizing cities and villages to pay expenses of law enforcement officers at institutes and training schools.

LB 94, Wagner—limiting liability of parents to $5,000 for the destruction of property by their children.

LB 95, Cole, Liebers—reducing from 20 to 12 years the time for expiration of leases on saline lands.

LB 96, Simmons—eliminating requirement that voters in cities of 7,000 to 40,000 shall re-register every six years.

LB 97, Liebers, Kotouc—providing that money paid to state treasurer by a self insurer under the Workmen's Compensation Law shall be credited to the state general fund.

LB 98, Portsche—making it mandatory, instead of permissive, for county treasurers to send out personal tax notices and notices of delinquencies.

LB 99, Portsche—providing the state licensing of physical therapists.

LB 100, Munnelly, Jensen, Portsche—placing state employes on a five-day week of not less than 40 hours except for State Safety Patrol chief and employes, weighing station and port of entry employes.

LB 101, Dooley—providing that Board of Educational Lands and Funds shall auction all improvements, including growing crops, reverting to the state when a school land lease is forfeited.

LB 102, Foote, Bixler, Tews—eliminating requirement that First Class cities must put to a vote of the people any proposal to erect off-street parking facilities, and allowing mayor and council to proceed by ordinance.

LB 103, Williams, Wood—raising from $20 to $24 the daily pay of deputy land surveyors under the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

LB 104, Portsche, Dooley, Tvrdik—providing for the state licensing and regulation of trailer courts and creating an advisory committee.

(Bills carrying emergency clause are designated (E).

STANTON DELAPLANE

POSTCARD

There was a time when Waikiki was the playground of Hawaiian kings. King David Kalakaua rode the white breakers and the first missionaries saw Hawaiian chiefs rubbed down with coconut oil.

Today you buy your own coconut compound in the drugstore on Kalakaua boulevard and rub yourself down.

The most famous beach in the world is getting a distinctly crowded look.

The elegant roped-off sands of the Royal Hawaiian are packed with canvas beach seats. As close as tables in a New York night club.

Brown coconut-oiled bodies are stacked in front of the Moana.

Down at the Hawaiian Village Henry Kaiser is raising heaven and sand for a brand new beach. He has already put in a South Pacific lagoon complete with palm trees. (The coconuts at Waikiki are carefully removed so that they do not drop on the heads of tourists.)

There are mosquitoes. You can drink the tap water. And the only complaint of the homebound tourist is that the scales must be wrong. He couldn't have gained that much weight.

That is what Waikiki coconut cream pie can do to you. Rub on that coconut cream. But don't swallow it.

☆ ☆ ☆

The best of the new restaurants is the Tahitian Lanai in the new Waikikian.

The other day I weighed in on the Royal Hawaiian scales and found that South Pacific lotus carries a few calories. Down seven pounds.

On the same day came an invitation from Spence Weaver, the restaurateur, to cuff a dinner at the Gourmet.

"I will eat lightly," I said, "for I have the appetiite of a bird. I will start with onion soup au gratin. Following with a Caesar salad and chateaubriand with bearnaise sauce and a couple of pounds of baked potatoes. French wines, crepes suzette and coffee. After that, I will think awhile about a late snack."

On the next evening, I dusted out to the Tahitian Lanai for raw fish in lime juice, two pounds of New Zealand lobster tail, a bowlful of green salad, pineapple and cheese.

The South Pacific taketh away. But it also giveth it back with interest.

☆ ☆ ☆

In the mornings while the sea sloshed lazily below, I ate that king of fish, mahimahi. With sweet rolls and coconut jam.

At noon I tied into the Royal Hawaiian's famous buffet of chicken, ham, fish, salads and coconut cake.

At night I was the first man in the dining room. Working on such things as Hawaiian surprise —the shell of a pineapple stuffed with ice cream and pineapple and strawberries.

Mr. Jack Fischbeck, the manager, began looking at me a little gloomily when I also polished off the bed of spun sugar.

☆ ☆ ☆

In the afternoons, I windowshopped the menu at Queen's Surf and Canlis, and stopped by for a snack of coconut pancakes at the little place just up from the Halekulani. Delicious.

Each day Mr. Fischbeck sent up a fresh-cut pineapple. Possibly to stall my appetite. He gave up when I called room service for a club sandwich to go with it.

So that today I have my lost seven pounds back. And a couple for the road. And I cannot understand why it all goes into the same place. Or else they are making these easy chairs smaller than they used to in the old days.

Hruska Calls Ike's Mid-East Plan 'Deterrent'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hruska said Wednesday he believes the prime merit of a Congressional resolution giving President Eisenhower authority to act under certain conditions in the Middle East lies in its deterrent force.

"Without a clear-cut and unified declaration along this line, effort might be made to capitalize on the situation as one which would go by default," Hruska told a reporter.

Hruska said that in 1950 Secretary of State Acheson "virtually disclaimed any United States interest in the defense of South Korea." The connection between that declaration and the actual invasion in June, he said, "is not difficult to perceive."

On the other hand, he said, the Formosan resolution that gave the President authority to use military forces in the event of invasion resulted in a stabilization in that area.

Hruska said the President has designated limitations to the authority he asked which are "heartening and comforting."

He said, "It is my hope that they will be fully explored in the hearings. Perhaps some of them can be incorporated into the language of the resolution more specifically."

Hruska also mentioned the effort of a refusal by Congress to go along with the President.

"Would it be the equivalent of saying we will not resist overt armed aggression in the Middle East by Communist forces?" he asked.

IOWANS ASK A 'FLOATING' BOUNDARY

. . . For State Line

DES MOINES (AP)—The unreliable Iowa-Nebraska boundary is still a source of worry and the State Conservation Commission says it will ask the Iowa Legislature to seek a "floating line" to divide the two states.

The center of the main channel of the Missouri River would be the border at all times and when the course of the river changes the boundary would change, under the latest proposal.

The town of Carter Lake would remain a part of Iowa, even though it is on the Nebraska side of the river.

Both Legislatures

To achieve such a boundary would require action by the Iowa and Nebraska Legislatures and approval by Congress.

Purpose of an elastic boundary would be to minimize land title and tax problems caused by the shifting channel of the stream.

The two states approved a boundary pact in 1943 in an effort to permanently settle the boundary problem. It was believed then that channel stabilization work by the Army engineers and upstream dams would result in a static boundary.

27 Miles

Since 1943, however, a total of 27 miles of the stablized channel as visualized in 1943 are entirely in Nebraska between Sioux City and Omaha and for 13 miles the river is entirely inside Iowa, according to Charles Sayre, the commission's survey chief.

"The river cannot be controlled completely," Sayres said. "The soil is loose, which just isn't stable."

Under the floating boundary proposal of the Iowa commission, ownership of the land would remain stable when the channel shifts, but tax and other state jurisdiction would change whenever the channel did.

Their Betrothals Announced This Morning

MISS KAY RILEY

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Riley of Fairbury make announcement this morning of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kay, to Jack Gatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gatz of O'Neill.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, Jan. 26, and the ceremony will be solemnized at St. Michael's Church in Fairbury.

Miss Riley is a graduate of Duchesne College in Omaha, and now is on leave from the American Air Lines where she is serving as a stewardess.

Mr. Gatz, a former student at Creighton University, attended the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He recently returned from a two years tour of duty with the armed forces in Hawaii.

MISS MARY GAILE SIGLER

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Dewey M. Sigler of Osceola, of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Gaile, to the Rev. James Tomasek, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo. son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schmidt of Minneapolis, Minn.

No wedding date is named.

Miss Sigler is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority, National Collegiate Players and Purple Masque. She now is a member of the Lincoln Public Schools faculty.

The Rev. Tomasek, director of Christian Education at the Calvary Evangelical and Reformed Church in St. Louis, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of National Collegiate Players and Purple Masque, and also was graduated from Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo.

Suburbia

One event of the holiday season seems to stand apart from the rest in this morning's news from Eastborough, for we haven't heard of another quite like it. Mr. and Mrs. George Brown received a pig as a Christmas present from friends this year, so on Dec. 22 15 dinner guests at the Brown home gazed with awe as the young porker, complete with apple in mouth, was brought forth to grace the dining table. In case you're interested, he was indeed a delectable morsel.

Entertaining on New Years Eve, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, sans piglet, were host and hostess to 12 guests at their annual open house.

Maj. and Mrs. Donald Shilling entertained overnight guests last Thursday evening. The visitors were Capt. and Mrs. Jack Moe and their two children, Kari and Dee Dee, of Manhattan, Kan.

For news of new residents in Eastborough we understand that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Denham and their son Steven moved into their home at 640 Northborough, Lane on Dec. 15.

Also moving into their new home at 308 West Rio Rd., on Dec. 15 were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Skillings. Mr. and Mrs. Skillings have two children, David and Linda.

Was Bride At Church Ceremony

MRS. CLARE ALMERY

Pom pons and snapdragons, in shades of gold and white, appointed the chancel, and satin bows, caught with greenery, marked the processional aisle at the Greenwood Methodist church where the wedding of Miss Darlene Carol Quick of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Quick of Ceresco, and Clare Gustav Almery, son of Mr and Mrs. Clarence Almery, also of Ceresco, took place on Tuesday evening, Jan. 8. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. O. Dale Bulkley of the Cedar Hills Methodist Church, and Miss Beverly Hutchinson, pianist, played the wedding music. Miss Hutchinson also accompanied the Rev. and Mrs. Eldon Langager, the vocal soloists.

Princess frocks of crystalette were chosen for the costumes of the attendants including the matron of honor, Mrs. Maynard Erickson of West Point, who wore the ruby red tone; and bridesmaids Miss Marlene Miller of Ashland and Miss Donna Peterson, who were in emerald green. Styled identically, the frocks had off-shoulder necklines that slipped into brief sleeves. The skirts were fashioned with straight panels of embroidery, to create a front sheath effect, and back fullness which was accented with swag bows. Their hair bandeaux were of frock-toned crystalette, and their cascade bouquets were of gold carnations. Miss Janice Clemens and Miss Clarice Clemens lighted the candles.

Maynard Erickson of West Point served Mr. Almery as best man, and the ushers were Glen Almery, Gerald Bulling of Davey, Gilbert Wilgus and Charles Scheuneman, both of Ithaca.

The bride appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. Lace fashioned the long-sleeved bodice, designed with a Sabrina neckline framed with pearls and iridescent sequins, and the lace extended, panel fashion, into the skirt created of tiers of pleated tulle which extended into a whisper train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a cluster of pink and red roses on a white Bible.

After a reception in the church parlors Mr. Almery and his bride left for a brief honeymoon trip after which they will reside on a farm near Ceresco.

Demo Rep. Walter Predicts Many More Refugees To Be Returned To Austria

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said Wednesday that screening of Hungarian refugees here was "rather casual" and he predicted that "many more" refugees would be returned to Austria.

Walter, chairman of the House Immigration subcommittee, made a brief visit here with members of his subcommittee. Last month he visited refugee camps in Austria.

He said he was "sure that more refugees have violated their parole status." Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing said in Washington Tuesday that 10 refugees had been deported—eight for making false representations and two at their own request.

Walter said, "I am sure that those Reds who did get into the country will be rounded up by investigative authorities and deported. . . . How many are here in the United States I don't know."

Ike's Committee

Walter was conducted on his tour by the camp commander, Brig. Gen. Sidney C. Wooten, and Leo C. Beebe, vice chairman of the President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief.

Earlier, during a briefing, Walter M. Besterman, chief counsel for the subcommittee, called the early processing of refugees in Austria by U.S. officials "haphazard."

Walter said that "the hard-boiled Hungarian Reds were the first to leave Hungary. They were fleeing the ire of their own people. . . . Odds are that some Communists did get into the U.S."

Walter told the reception center officials the United States should have given money to Austria to support them there for a longer period.

No Move To Stiffen Housing Law Planned

The City Planning Commission plans to make no move at this time toward strengthening of Lincoln's minimum standards housing ordinance.

The ordinance was reviewed by the Commission in line with a recent report from the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. This report was to the effect that Lincoln's housing ordinance was not strong enough in some regards, particularly in its application to existing dwellings.

The report indicated that a stronger ordinance would be needed if Lincoln is to get federal aid on urban renewal projects. Urban renewal on a rehabilitation basis, the report said, requires even a stronger ordinance than urban renewal on a redevelopment basis.

Commission Chairman E. J. Faulkner pointed out that Lincoln is vitally interested in the rehabilitation phase of urban renewal.

It was the Commission's opinion, however, that nothing be done on the housing ordinance until the State Legislature provides a law permitting Lincoln to engage in urban renewal projects.

Plans have been made, Faulkner said, for introduction of this needed legislation.

3 Youths Plead Guilty On Checks

Three Lincoln youths pleaded guilty Thursday before Lancaster District Judge Harry Spencer to bad check charges.

Roger Scheer, 19, of 1126 So. 7th; Richard Seaman, 20, of 913 O, and Kenneth Parsons, 18, of 116 No. 14th were charged with a Jan. 18 offense involving a $36.75 no-account check on a Lincoln bank.

The youths were ordered held in custody pending pre-sentence investigations.

Planners Like City Traffic Setup Switch

The City Planning Commission has expressed favor with a proposed reorganization of Lincoln's traffic agencies or groups to provide a centralized, long range traffic improvement program.

It was agreed by the Commission to take the subject up with the City Council at a meeting of the two groups in the near future.

A picture of divided authority in the Lincoln traffic field was presented to the Commission by Eldridge Lovelace, Lincoln planning consultant from Harland Batholomew & Associates of St. Louis, Mo.

There is the Traffic Commission, Police Department, Engineering Department, City Council and Planning Commission, Lovelace said, all involved in the handling of the city's traffic problems and needs.

This divided organization, he said, has so far led to little but temporary measures of traffic relief. Eventually, he said, the city will reach the point where all such stop-gap measures will have been exhausted and some real money will have to be spent.

All traffic activities of the city, he said, should be combined under one single head or jurisdiction.

Attorney General To Settle Question On Lt. Governor

Whether or not the lieutenant governor should be a member of the Reference Committee of the Legislature will be determined by opinion.

The question came up during a meeting of the Rules Committee of the Legislature.

Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney of Hartington presently is considered a member of the Reference Committee.

Some members of the Legislature questioned if Burney, as an executive officer of the state, should act in matters dealing with legislation.

The matter was given to the attorney general for decision.

Montgomery Bus Hit By Gun Blast

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A city bus was struck by a shotgun blast from a passing car Wednesday night and the mayor immediately reinstated a ban on night bus operations.

Detective Lt. G. H. Owens said the bus driver was alone in a Negro residential area when a car pulled alongside. The blast broke a window about three windows behind the driver. He was not injured.

Mayor W. A. Gayle halted bus service for the evening. Service after 5 p.m. was resumed only Wednesday after an 11-day ban because of earlier armed attacks on buses. A young Negro expectant mother was shot in both legs in one attack.

Nixon Is 44

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon turned 44 and his colleagues marked the occasion with a round of applause in the Senate, two birthday cakes and a life membership — worth $1,000—in the Capitol Hill Club.

The vice president's staff said he'll get another birthday cake Saturday, when he and his family stage a tardy home celebration.

The Capitol Hill Club, an organization of Republicans in and out of the government, put on a reception for Nixon. Rep. Auchincloss (R-NJ) who was in charge, said the club would present life memberships to the vice president for himself and Mrs. Nixon.

Auchincloss said the life memberships cost $1,000 apiece and relieve members of the payment of dues or assessments.

Careless Smoking Believed Cause Of Colony Club Fire

OMAHA. (AP)—Fire department arson investigator Dan Mulcahey said Wednesday that the costly Colony Club blaze Dec. 30 probably was caused by careless smoking.

Almost every other agent has been ruled out, he said, but "no definite cause has been determined."

The blaze started near the stairway of a small champagne and wine balcony above the rear whisky room, Mulcahey said.

Damage to the club and four adjacent firms has been estimated at nearly $200,000.

Senate Doorman Halts 'Youngster' Senator Church

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young-looking fellow Wednesday brushed past a doorkeeper and headed into the Senate chamber.

"Hey, got a card there, Buddy?" asked the doorkeeper. Then —"Oh, it's you."

The "youngster" was Sen. Church (D-Idaho), at 32 the Senate's youngest member.

"It's all right," Church assured the embarrassed doorkeeper. "I've already started wearing brown suits instead of black to keep from being confused with the pages."

Battle Lines Form As Game Laws To Be Overhauled

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A first-class battle was in the offing Wednesday with reports the State Game Commission is preparing a general recodification of state game laws.

Some provisions of the overhaul are expected to conflict with bills already presented to the Legislature. These include license fees for hunting and fishing and possibly the Upland Bird Stamp for hunting pheasant and quail.

The Game Commission bill, which the Commission hopes will be introduced to the Legislature by one of the committees, is expected to include provisions for doubling license fees.

Direct Conflict

This would be in direct conflict to a bill all ready in the hoppers, backed mainly by Sen. George Syas of Omaha, which raises but does not double the hunting licenses. Sen. Syas' bill raises the fee from $1.50 to $2.50, but eliminates the $1 bird stamp.

M. O. Steen, executive secretary of the State Game Commission, has said he wanted the license fees hiked in order to provide expanded work by the commission. But he would keep the Upland Bird Stamp.

Sen. Syas' bills—one of which sets a limit for the salary of the executive secretary of the commission—also would change hunting laws for deer and antelope. He would open up for general use unused permits during a regular hunting season for hunters who have held permits during the past three years.

Must Wait 3 Years

Under present law, anyone holding an antelope or deer hunting permit may not re-apply within a three year period.

Sen. Syas, who headed a Legislative Council committee studying the Game Commission and its operation, advocated dropping the bird stamp but raising license fees in order to provide more money for matching federal funds.

Funds derived from the bird stamps were earmarked for restocking of pheasant and quail throughout the state.

Legislator Asks State Game Commissioner Robertson Quit

State Game Commissioner Donald F. Robertson, North Platte hotel owner, has been asked to resign by a member of the Nebraska Legislature.

The request was made by Sen. LeRoy Bahensky of Palmer, during a telephone conversation with Robertson Wednesday. It was learned that Robertson held back on answering the request and said he would be in Lincoln Jan. 15 for a Commission meeting.

Robertson, focal point of an argument over charges of game shooting from a road that were dropped against him, previously refused to resign. A recommendation he do so had been put forth by a Legislative Council committee investigating the Game Commission.

The fact that Robertson will be in Lincoln was believed the reason a resolution calling for an investigation in the shooting matter was being held up for decision.

Made By Carpenter

Offered by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, the resolution called for naming a five-man committee from the Legislature to investigate the matter. Carpenter at the time said he just wanted the matter "cleared up" and said he didn't believe the hearing would last more than one day.

Robertson at the time said there were "many things" not known about the shooting case, involving a game bird.

A complaint against Robertson was filed and later withdrawn in Johnson County.

M. O. Steen, executive secretary of the Commission, repeatedly has called the matter an "internal" one. Steen ordered the complaint withdrawn by one of the Commission agents.

Several legislators have expressed a desire to have the matter cleared up. Many have said the matter should have been processed through court the first time it was filed.

PCC Penalties Not Lightened

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The powerful NCAA Council, in a day of voting "no," Wednesday decided not to penalize the University of Minnesota for having used an ineligible player in the 1956 NCAA baseball championships and not to lighten penalties previously inflicted on three colleges—Washington, UCLA and Southern California.

As business began to pick up rapidly at the 51st NCAA convention and the 34th American Football Coaches Assn., meeting, the NCAA also released its 1956 Television Committee report which said, in effect, "we did pretty well on football TV, so let's continue."

The Minnesota case was the first that had come up concerning an ineligible player in a NCAA team championship and produced the rather surprising revelation that the NCAA had no general policy concerning such a situation. That was corrected at a meeting last August, but meanwhile the council was faced with the problem of what to do in this one instance. It decided to do nothing.

The player was Bill Horning, Minnesota captain and star outfielder, from Watertown, S.D., who had signed a professional contract with the Cedar Rapids, Iowa club while still in high school. He wasn't paid anything and didn't play pro ball and when he entered college baseball he didn't tell university authorities about it.

NCAA rules say that any player who even signs a pro contract isn't an amateur and hence is ineligible. The Horning case came to light after the NCAA tournament last spring when runner-up Arizona protested, and touched off a lengthy investigation which also involved some other players.

As a result, the NCAA now has a policy which would deprive a team which uses an ineligible player of any championship or place in the tournament standings it might win. Or in sports like track where athletes compete as individuals, the ineligible man's own performances and contributions to team point totals will be rubbed out.

The three Pacific Coast colleges, now on probation and barred from participating in NCAA championships and co-operating events for varying periods, asked that their penalties be lightened in line with recent action by their own conference.

The conference penalties, inflicted as a result of various discoveries of illegal recruiting and payment to athletes, had concerned only football at Southern California and all sports at UCLA and Washington. At a recent PCC meeting, it was decided to remove the ban against winning championships and post-season and tournament participation in sports other than football. California, also on probation, never was barred from the extra events.

Pete Gets A Few Pointers

Pete Elliott (left), football coach at the University of Nebraska and prominently mentioned for the coaching job at the Universiay of Washington, listens as Jess Neely of Rice Institute talks football Wednesday at the NCAA convention in St. Louis. Neely is president of the American Football Coaches Association who are also meeting in St. Louis this week. (AP Wirephoto).

Huskie Director Plans To Meet Pete Again

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska is waiting.

Washington is waiting.

Maybe some other school is waiting.

Apparently Pete Elliott is waiting—to make up his mind.

That's the situation in the University of Nebraska football drama as of Thursday morning.

As usual in such cases, there are reports that Elliott has decided in favor of Washington. Other grapevine shots say he's going to stay at Nebraska. There are even rumors that Pete is considering several offers other than the whopper from Washington.

But according to the 30-year-old Husker coach nothing definite has been decided—at least nothing that he is ready to reveal.

"I have not made a decision yet," Elliott told The Star late Wednesday night.

George Briggs, athletic director at Washington, also said that Elloitt had not accepted an offer from his school yet, nor did he "have any idea when he might."

Briggs added that he planned other conferences in St. Louis with Elliott "and other people." He did not identify the other people.

"Yes, I'm interested in Elliott," Briggs said. "But nothing definite has been established."

Other Briggs' comments included:

"I have no idea whether or not Elliott is 'leaning' toward Washington.

"I did not meet with Elliott today, but I plan further conferences with him.

"Even though Seattle newspapers say it, I cannot say that we have reached a partial agreement."

Briggs said that any announcement that Elliott had taken the Washington job would be made by him and would come from Seattle.

Pete is getting assistance in the brain-work department from his wife, Joan, who has joined him in St. Louis where he is attending the NCAA convention.

There were two schools of thought on this here Wednesday. One is that presence of Mrs. Elliott indicates he is about to take another job and that she has joined him for the final phase of the proceedings.

The other is that Mrs. Elliott may try to persuade him to remain in Lincoln, as many coaches and friends in St. Louis have been trying to do.

But most likely the Elliott's are just talking things over in an effort to reach a fast decision.

Pete indicated Wednesday that the matter of the offer from Washington — or the offers from other schools, as the case may be — was something he could not decide in haste.

"All factors in a case like this are important," he said. "Salary is not the big item (he reportedly was offered at least $17,000 to take the Huskie job.) While it is important, of course, there are other things that must be considered."

Elliott would not deny that he had been contacted by a school (or schools) other than Washington. He also has not yet admitted that he has received an offer from Washington.

"I am not at liberty to say whether or not I've been contacted by another school," he said. "All I can say is that I have met with officials of another school or schools."

There were reports Wednesday that Houston was interested in Elliott as a replacement for Bill Meek who went to Southern Methodist, but these were not confirmed.

Pete, who met with Washington Athletic Director George Briggs last Saturday in Seattle, would not say whether or not he had completed talks with the Pacific Coast school.

"I conferred with officials of another school yesterday (Tuesday), but I don't know whether I'll meet with them again."

Apparently, negotiations with Washington are completed and all that remains is for Elliott to make his decision.

Of course, if another school has jumped into the bidding, his choice might be between Nebraska and several other jobs.

Sentiment seemed strong in Lincoln Wednesday that the decision belonged strictly to Elliott and that the school should make no more overtures to retain him.

The Regent's raised Pete's salary from $12,000 to $14,500 last week.

"We've done all we can — and all that we should," one source close to the scene said Wednesday. "Now it's all up to Pete."

If Elliott departs from Nebraska, there seems no question but what Backfield Coach Bill Jennings will be his successor.

Othletic Director Bill Orwig had told The Star early Wednesday, and repeated it again during the day, that if the new coach came from the present staff "Jennings would be the logical choice."

It is almost a certainty that Orwig—in an effort to continue the program that has been established at Nebraska with the least amount of back-sliding—will name one of the present staffers, thus Jennings.

What the situation would be with the other assistants is questionable. Elliott has a strong hold on the younger members of the staff.

Welter Title Bout To Be Set Back

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio said Wednesday night he had injured his right hand in training and that he would have to postpone his scheduled Jan. 18 title defense with Johnny Saxton in Cleveland at least five weeks.

Basilio, of nearby Chittenango, N.Y., appeared at the Wayne Bethea-Zora Folley fight with his right hand bandaged.

His co-managers, Johnny DeJohn and Joe Netro, said they would visit the Cleveland commission Thursday to ask for an official postponement and a new date for the fight.

"Why fight with one hand?" said Basilio at the Memorial Auditorium. "I want to be in perfect condition when I fight for the championship. I want to be able to give everything when I fight—that's what the people want and expect."

Basilio said he had bruised the hand a few weeks ago and had hoped that it would get better. He said, however, that he hasn't been able to hit the bags for a few days.

Dr. Charles Heck of Syracuse said the hand was swollen badly.

"Carmen was hoping everything would turn out all right and he didn't want to cancel the fight," said Netro. "But he didn't want to hurt it in a fight and then have to protect it and make a poor fight."

He said Basilio would leave on a train early this morning "about 2 a.m.," and the party would arrive in Cleveland "before 8 a.m." to appear before the commission.

The 29-year-old champion will be examined by commission physicians.

Basilio regained the 147-pound crown by stopping Saxton in the ninth round of a return bout at Syracuse, Sept. 12. He had lost the title to Saxton, of New York, on a controversial 15-round decision at Chicago last March 15.

Folley Rallies To Win After Knockdown

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., survived a nine-count knockdown in the seventh round and won a split decision over Wayne Bethea of New York in their 10-round fight Wednesday night at the War Memorial Auditorium. Folley weighed 192 pounds, Bethea 204¼.

The victory was the second in less than two months for Folley over the mauling Bethea. Folley, a classic styled fighter, won their Dec. 2 bout in New York City by a margin of one point.

Judge Dick Albino and Referee Lou Scova scored the fight 5-4 and one even in favor of the Arizona fighter. Judge Nick Fazio had the same count, but in favor of the New Yorker.

Bethea's best round was the seventh when he caught Folley off guard with a short left hook and a jabbing right chop, sending the taller fighter to the floor for a nine count.

St. Joseph Rally Upends LaSalle

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—St. Joseph's College, trailing by eight points with about two minutes to go, rallied to force La Salle into overtime and then defeated the Explorers 97-85 in the second game of a Palestra basketball doubleheader Wednesday night.

Penn rallied from a 20 point deficit in the opener to beat Cornell 77-72 and gain its first Ivy League triumph in four starts.

Wilfong Held, Louisville Wins

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Led by a terrific offensive and defensive performance by Bill Darragh, the University of Louisville Cardinals handed Memphis State a 93-71 basketball defeat Wednesday night.

Darragh, who scored 26 points on 10 field goals and six of six free throws, held Win Wilfong of Memphis scoreless from the floor.

Georgia Tech Aid Frank Broyles Named Head Coach At Missouri

By SKIPPER PATRICK

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Affable Frank Broyles, a 10-year coaching veteran at 32, Wednesday was named head football coach at the University of Missouri to succeed Don Faurot.

Dr. Elmer Ellis, president of the university, who made the announcement here, said Broyles, backfield coach at Georgia Tech the last six years, was hired for three years. The salary was not disclosed.

Broyles, a native of Atlanta, Ga., and a former Georgia Tech three-sports star, was assistant coach three years at Baylor and one year at Florida before returning to his alma mater six seasons ago as backfield coach under Bobby Dodd.

Faurot announced last September he was retiring from coaching after 19 seasons to devote full time to the athletic directorship following the 1956 football season. He said whether present members on the Missouri staff would be retained was up to Broyles.

"Broyles hasn't had an opportunity to interview our present staff members," Faurot said. The young Georgian said he would take care of the matter at the "earliest opportunity."

Broyles said he probably would want to keep "most of the Missouri staff" and bring in one or two additional men.

Faurot said, "I believe we have secured one of the finest young coaches in the country. He goes along with our plans."

Broyles will make the football decisions, Faurot said, and "I'm going to be the athletic director."

A number of other coaches, among them Bob Woodruff, athletic director and football coach at Florida, under whom Broyles broke into coaching in 1947 at Baylor, were high in praise of the new Missouri coach.

"Frank is one of the outstanding young coaches in the country," Woodruff said. "I know he will prove himself at Missouri immediately. We hate to lose him from the Southeastern Conference. I believe he will make the Oklahoma schedule a tougher one."

Broyles paid tribute to Dodd, and gave the Georgia Tech mentor most of the credit for Broyles getting the Missouri job. "I hate leaving Georgia Tech because Bobby Dodd is the greatest football coach in the business," Broyles said.

Broyles added he wanted the Missouri job because he felt "it will be an honor and a wonderful experience to work for Don Faurot, who has contributed so much to football."

Discussing his football philosophy, Broyles said:

"I'm not a believer in recruiting boys from distant points. We found at Georgia Tech that most of them didn't work out too well."

Broyles admitted, however, that he would not close the door to any capable young football player who chose to enter Missouri. "But I will not solicit those far-away boys," he said.

Dr. Ellis said Broyles was the unanimous choice of both the university's faculty-alumni committee and the board of curators.

Broyles' enthusiasm for the Missouri system—basically a recruiting system limited to homestate athletes—and the similarity of the Georgia Tech and Missouri systems were important factors in the selection of the new coach, Dr. Ellis said.

Faurot said Broyles was chosen after numerous candidates had been screened. Fourteen came up for interviews.

Best known as inventor of the sliding, or split-T offense, Faurot took over as head coach at Missouri in 1935. He's been there ever since, taking time out for three years of service in World War II. His record has been consistently good while playing major league schedules.

Giants Make New Offer To Lure Robinson Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, former Brooklyn Dodgers star, refused to give a definite "no" to one of the most attractive offers ever dangled before a ball player as the New York Giants made a final desperate effort Wednesday night to persuade him to change his mind regarding retirement from the game.

Robinson admitted that Charles Feeney, vice president of the Giants, offered him a one-year contract that, together with his purchase price from Brooklyn, would cost the Giants a cool hundred thousand dollars.

The Associated Press learned that Robinson also was offered other considerations designed to be of benefit to him after his playing days are over.

"I did not give him a flat no at this time only because he asked me to think it over for a couple of days," said Robinson shortly before going on the TV program

"But there is no doubt in my mind that the answer will be no."

Robinson said he told Feeney that "I don't think I could help the club to the point where it would do them any good. But there is no doubt in my mind I would make much more money with the Giants than with Brooklyn last year.

Lakers Rally, Nip Syracuse 93-86

MOORHEAD, Minn. (AP) — The Minneapolis Lakers rallied in the final quarter behind Bob Leonard and Clyde Lovellette Wednesday night to down Syracuse, 93-86, in a National Basketball Assn. contest, played in Concordia College Fieldhouse. Lovellette shoved in 12 of his 14 points in the finale while Leonard was topping his 19-count production to bring the Lakers from behind a 43-40 halftime deficit.

Wichita Trips Bills, 69-64

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Joe Stevens' 21 points and Don Woodworth's rebounding fired Wichita to an upset 69-54 basketball victory over the St. Louis Billikens in a Missouri Valley Conference game Wednesday night.

The lead changed hands four times late in the first half but Wichita took a 36-32 halftime margin on two lay-ins by Gary Mann and never trailed again.

Don Fricke Named To All-American Eleven

KANSAS CITY GM BLASTS BAN ON SCOUTS

Carroll Fires Back At College Coaches

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A proposal by college coaches that major and minor league baseball scouts be banned from campus contacts with prospective players drew fire Wednesday from General Manager Parke Carroll of the Kansas City Athletics.

"Before the colleges start shooting at anybody they had better put their own house in order," steamed Carroll, whose A's had been cited as an example of unrestricted campus raiders.

Coach Ethan Allen of Yale, president of the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches, singled out the Kansas City club in a speech before the group meeting in St. Louis Monday. After Allen spoke, the association recommended that the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. clamp down on baseball scouts.

Allen told the group the A's "by their own admission" had signed 322 college baseball players and found only 17 the club regarded as prospects. Once a collegian signs a professional baseball contract he becomes ineligible for participation in any collegiate sport.

"I'm willing to bet that all of the players signed by professional baseball last year didn't cost as much eligibility as was lost in the disciplinary action taken by the Pacific Coast Conference," Carroll said in an interview with the Kansas City Star.

(The PCC, in sweeping action last fall, curtailed the eligibility of a number of football players).

"It seems to me that the colleges have taken a pretty selfish attitude about the whole thing," he continued. "If a trumpet player left college to play in a band, nothing would be said. This whole question boils down to the question whether or not a kid is an athlete. . . .

"If the colleges really want to help a kid through school, why don't they remove the rule which makes a boy a professional in every sport merely because he signs a pro contract in one."

Carroll agreed the statistics Allen had cited about the A's were correct but said the figure of 17 had been "twisted." He pointed out that some of the youngsters signed and not now regarded as big league prospects might develop into top players later.

"There are hundreds of such examples in baseball," Carroll said. "Three who come to my mind quickly are Joe Collins, Hank Bauer and Gerry Coleman."

Beatrice Lions Club Hears Lake Report

BEATRICE—Lions Club members here heard the history and progress report on the Burchard Lake project at their regular monthly meeting.

Speaker was W. J. Hinel, Gage County drive chairman for the Burchard Lake who asked the assistance of the Lions in the drive and reported that $7,500 of the $21,500 needed had been collected and pledged.

The chairman reported that the first of the options on the land for the lakesite would require action about March 1 and urged that Lions and other clubs get behind the drive now so that the community could take advantage of federal funds available.

Also on hand was George Pinkerton, a member of the Nebraska Game Commission and one of the early proponents of the Burchard Lake Project before being appointed to the Game Commission.

Fremont's Groves Star 'Player Of The Week'

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Fremont High is making a strong bid for all the marbles in the state high school Class AA basketball race, and one reason for the Tiger success is Dennis Groves.

Groves is The Lincoln Star's Basketball Player of the Week.

Last Friday and Saturday, Groves scored 41 points in two games as the Tigers upped their record of 4-1.

Fremont has played only Class AA foes, so you can't say Groves has been feasting on weak opposition. Last week he hit a scoring peak with 22 against Omaha Benson and 19 against Beatrice.

Fremont won the state championship in 1951 when Bob Faris's clever ball-handlers worked a stall to down Omaha Benson in the state finals.

The sixth anniversary of that game might find Fremont again gunning for the state tournament title if Groves, a six-foot senior, can maintain his consistent performance.

Other standouts:

Dennis Shaffer, Pawnee City—Sparkplug as Pawnee enjoying a fair early start; hit 20 points against Wilber.

Val Makovicka, Dwight Assumption—Basket in overtime gave Assumption the Flight 2 title in the Lincoln Diocese tournament.

Max Coufal, David City St. Mary's—Standout player in the Lincoln Diocesan tourney, although his team finished second.

Russ Hicks, Stella — Rebounding and clinching bucket sparked major upset of Verdon, 31-26.

Del Blank, Wilcox—Veteran pumped in 34 as Wilcox knocked off previously unbeaten Overton.

Tom Williams, Cozad—Scored 16 points and snared more than half the rebounds against Grant.

Merrit James, Nebraska City—Has scored 105 points for Pioneers, including 26 in rout of Southeast.

Ron Luttig, Louisville—Freshman led scoring with 18 as Louisville upended Syracuse.

Leyn Fluckey, Arlington—Sparked the fourth-quarter drive which shoved Arlington past Bennington, and was high scorer with 20 points.

Larry Butzine, Hay Springs—Key player as Hay Springs won the Northwest Conference tournament.

Gary Smidt, York—Eight buckets blitzed Wahoo.

Otto Remmen, Plainview—6-foot 6-inch Pirate ace swept the board as Plainview beat Pierce in the Pierce Invitational Tourney finals, 57-33.

Rich Freiberg, Stanton—Hit 26 against Winside.

Fred Bias, Shelton—Two free throws in final minute put Shelton over the top against Bertrand, 57-54.

Burdette Busch, Dodge—24 points led Dodge past Hooper.

Larry Yilk, Cedar Rapids—5-8 playmaker has been a key man in the Cedar Rapids attack which has mowed down six straight opponents.

Stan Frades, Reynolds—5-6 guard scored 29 points as Reynolds whipped Steele City.

Larry Oltmans, Belgrade—Fine performance offensively (24 points) and defensively led team past Spalding 63-53.

Ron Nannen, Sprague-Martel—29 points were instrumental in breaking Clatonia's seven-game win streak, 64-58.

Charlie Johnson, Wymore—Junior guard scored 23 in win over Adams.

Marvin Bauer, University High—Hit well and played fine floor game against Tecumseh.

Yale Hits Brown, 91-67

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Johnny Lee poured in 31 points Wednesday night to lead Yale to a 91-67 Ivy League basketball victory over Brown.

Lincoln High Cage Schedule Altered

Lincoln High has announced a change in its basketball schedule with regards to the North Platte game which was slated for Feb. 8.

The game was originally scheduled at North Platte on that date but has been switched to the Lincoln High Activities Building.

The school has also announced the schedule of its basketball "doubleheaders". The first of these twin bills will be slated for Jan. 25 when the Links will meet Boys Town in the early game and Northeast will play Norfolk in the nightcap.

The other doubleheader date is set for Feb. 2 when Lincoln High entertains Grand Island and Southeast meets Falls City.

Syracuse Scores 7th Straight Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Powerful Syracuse combined good outside shooting with a fast break Wednesday night to register the Orange's seventh straight basketball victory with a 93-76 dicision over Fordham.

Fordham Coach Johnny Bach tried to get away with starting a small but fast team but it backfired when Vinnie Cohen banged through 15 points in the first 12 minutes.

Cohen was high man for the winners with 29 points, most on one handers and jumps from the left side. Jim Cunningham led Fordham with 24.

Boys Town Swim Team Dunks SE

The Boys Town swimming team grabbed all but two individual events and slipped past the Southeast tankers, 41-36, in a dual meet at the Southeast pool Wednesday.

Southeast winners were Jim Frank in diving and Jon Taylor in the 40-yard free style event.

The Southeast swimmers return to action again Friday when they host Omaha Tech in a meet which should be spiced by a duel between Tech diver Tom Osborne and Southeast's Frank.

Results:

40-yard free style—Won by Taylor (SE); 2—Keny (BT); 3—Slobe (BT). Time—:20.9.

100-yard breast stroke—Won by Coku (BT); 2—Roederer, (BT); 3—Ellsworth (SE). Time—1:17.7. (Briggs (SE) won in 1:12.2 but was disqualified).

160-yard free style relay—Won by Southeast (Van Bloom, Jancke, Miller, Taylor). Time—1:23.2.

Izaac Walton Club Elects New Officers

Henry Reider was elected 1957 president of the Lincoln Izaac Walton Club in balloting at the group's last meeting.

Also elected as assistants to Reider were Ralph Dell, vice president; Marshall Bowmaster, secretary and Frank Whyman, treasurer.

Furman Soph Hits 30 In 104-85 Win

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Furman's Purple Paladins got a 30-point performance out of sophomore guard Dick Wright Wednesday night and overwhelmed the Davidson Wildcats 104-85 in a Southern Conference basketball game.

The victory helped Furman hold its second-place rating in the conference behind West Virginia. It was Davidson's 12th straight loss.

Wright, a 5-11 mite from Lansdowne, Pa., flashed in Furman's high-scoring offense. His 30 points was high for both teams but his ball handling was more impressive than his scoring.

Xavier Riddles Crosstown Foe

CINCINNATI (AP) — Xavier's Musketeers wrecked their crosstown rivals from the University of Cincinnati Wednesday night with a 51-point last half scoring spree that produced an 88-62 basketball victory before 10,865 fans.

The Muskies, now with an 8-3 record, trailed the slightly favored Bearcats through much of the first half but finally edged out in front at 25-24.

Xavier had a 37-31 halftime lead and then poured it on in a last half rout that saw sophomores Cornelius Freeman and Hank Stein and senior Jimmy Boothe cut loose with a blistering shooting exhibition that gave Xavier a 74-45 lead with seven minutes to go.

Freeman led the Xavier scoring with 21 points.

Otoe, Phillips Lead First D And E Ratings

Sprague-Martel, Wilcox 2nd; Phillips Has 12 Straight Wins

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Otoe and Phillips, two small schools with big win totals, top The Star's first basketball ratings in Classes D and E.

Coach Bob Ihrig's Otoe club has a 9-0 slate to lead Class D. Skip Finch's Phillips team has clicked off 12 straight wins, including a pair in its own invitational tournament.

The races in th lower class stack up as follows:

Class D

With Brady now in Class E, a new tournament champion is assured. The scrap for the Lincoln area tournament berth should be hot, since the clubs now ranked one-two will probably bump heads before the state carnival.

Sprague-Martel, winner of seven games—including two over rated clubs (Benedict and Clatonia)—is the second-place club. Floyd Mann's club was in the state Class E tourney last year.

Ruskin, the six-man football champion, looks strong after five outings and is third ahead of Western, two-time state D champ and a state tourney participant last season.

Utica, a red-hot team in 1956, has good material again and is fifth. Other good clubs trail, and the race for Top Ten spots is still wide open.

Class E

Phillips replaces Holstein as the team to beat in Class E. Holstein, state champ two years in a row, has had tough sledding this season—one of Holstein's conquerors was Phillips.

Second is Wilcox, winner of its four games—including one over Class D toughie Overton. Elba ranks third after five victories. Upland is fourth.

Brady, loser by two points to Overton, is fifth. The 1956 Class D champs dropped into Class E this year but the loss of star Bill Nelson by transfer to Scottsbluff may have offset the drop in class.

Tobias, a state tourney team last year, and Glenvil, Weston, Byron and McGrew trail.

Furillo Signs Contract; Sidelined Until March

BROOKLYN (AP) — Carl Furillo joined Captain Pee Wee Reese, Don Newcombe, Duke Snider and four lesser lights in the Brooklyn Dodger fold Wednesday when he signed his 1957 contract calling for a reported $27,500, the same salary he received last year.

Furillo, recuperating from an appendectomy in December, will report to the Dodgers training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., next month but he has been ordered by his doctor not to touch a ball until March 1.

The strong-armed outfielder, now 34, batted .289 in 1956, hitting 21 home runs. He is one of the few active players with a lifetime .300 batting average in 11 seasons with the Dodgers.

Furillo's signing followed only hours after Snider, the club's leading home run hitter last year, had come to terms. Snider will receive an estimated $41,000, the same figure he commanded in '56 when the Duke batted .292, drove in 101 runs and slammed 43 home runs to set a club record.

Accompanying Snider's contract was a note to E. J. Bavasi informing the Dodger vice president that he had been working on his Fallbrook, Calif., ranch all winter and that he weighed 201 pounds, two under his World Series weight last fall. Snider reported heavy last spring and his slow start was blamed on that condition.

With Reese also in the fold, the Dodgers need only the signatures of first baseman Gil Hodges, second baseman Jim Gilliam, third baseman Randy Jackson, left fielder Sandy Amoros and catcher Roy Campanella to round out a first team. It was believed, however, that the signing of Campanella and Hodges will not be an easy matter. Hodges finished strong after a poor start and has been quoted as saying he expects a "substantial increase" in salary.

Campanella, who received a reported $42,000 last year, suffered through one of his worst seasons in the majors, batting .219 and driving in only 73 runs. He underwent an operation on his left hand several weeks ago which he hopes will boost his average and increase his value this year.

Eden Was Weak Prime Minister—University's Expert On Britain

What would Winston Chruchill have done in Eden's position?

A University of Nebraska history professor made three "educated" guesses, pointing up the differences between the two former Conservative prime ministers.

1. Churchill never would have gotten into the position Eden was in, in the first place.

2. Churchill would never have stopped at a half-way compromise on the Suez Canal situation.

3. Churchill would have called Parliament into session for a full House debate on the issue before ever submitting his resignation.

On Level With Chamberlain

"Eden was a weak prime minister—on a level with Neville Chamberlain rather than Winston Churchill," according to Professor Glenn Gray, a British history specialist.

"Without question, illness was important in Eden's decision to resign, but without the Suez situation he could have continued as prime minister," the professor said.

Two prime factors in choosing Eden's successor are, first, the man's ability to control the House of Commons, and second the opinion of Dulles and the U.S. State Department of the man selected.

Discussing the British leaders who have been suggested as possible successors, the professor named R. H. 'Rab' Butler, present House of Commons leader as "probably the ablest parliamentary debater."

"The next session will see strife between the Laborites and Conservatives and within the Conservative Party," he said. "The prime minister must be a man able to speak on his feet and have a firm control."

Another proposed candidate, Harold McMillan, chancellor of the exchequer, was named "a possible choice" by Gray "because he seems to be on good terms with the U.S. State Department."

McMillan may not have the force of personality to handle the stormy sessions ahead, the professor commented.

'Very Dark Horse'

The Marquess of Reading, now minister of state in the information office, was called "a very dark horse" by the historian.

Professor Gray sees no likelihood of British elections over Eden's resignation, stating that "it would take a Conservative revolt to do it."

"The Party split between those who think Eden was right in the Suez crisis, but did evverything wrong, and those who object to Eden's stopping at the halfway point," he said. "The split is not likely to bring about a revolt."

Mitchell Hearing To Be Held 'If Needed'—Dr. Dow

"If we need to hold a hearing in the Mitchell case, we'll hold one," Professor David Dow, chairman of the University of Nebraska faculty committee on privilege and tenure stated Wednesday.

Confirming reports that additional information had been sent the group by Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell, former chairman of the department of agricultural economics, Dr. Dow refused to say when the committee would meet to discuss the new material.

Dr. Dow heads the faculty group now investigating the removal of Dr. Mitchell as department chairman. The investigation was requested by Dr. Mitchell who now is working with a UN agency in Mexico City. Dr. Mitchell contended his removal was an abridgement of his academic freedom.

Dr. Dow said he was not at liberty to reveal the additional information sent by Mitchell, or discuss the possibility that the new material might require committee hearings.

"If we have a hearing, it will not be public," Dr. Dow said. "This does not mean that we will not hold public hearings. We haven't discussed it."

Policies Blamed For Eden Move

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet news agency Tass attributed Prime Minister Eden's resignation to failure of his policies rather than to his poor health.

A dispatch from London said his downfall was the result of "the British-French military misadventure against Egypt, as well as announcement of the so-called Eisenhower doctrine which further undermines the already weakened position of British imperialism in the Near and Middle East."

Measure Proposes 40-Hour Work Week For Almost All State Employes

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

State employes with some exceptions, would be placed on a 40-hour work week under a bill introduced into the Legislature Wednesday.

The bill was one of 16 offered into the hoppers Wednesday, bringing the total to 104. Last session, there were a total of 90 bills introduced by the seventh day of the session.

The present work-week for most state employes is now 44 hours.

Safety Patrol Exempt

The new bill would exempt members of the Safety Patrol, who now work 60 hours a week, and port of entry and weighing station employes from the 40-hour provision.

Introducers of the bill were Sens. Stanley Portsche of Lincoln, John Munnelly of Omaha, and Hans O. Jensen of Aurora. The bill is LB 100.

Sen. Portsche was sole backer of a measure to provide for state licensing of physical therapists, a bill he said is needed to generally raise the qualifications and standards of the profession.

Trailer Court Licensing

State licensing of trailer courts would be handled under a bill advanced by Portsche, Sen. Tom Dooley of Papillion, and Sen. Charles F. Tvrdik of Omaha.

Sen. Portsche said the state licensing law would give county assessors a better chance of keeping track of the mobile homes. The senator said loss in trailer taxes in Lancaster County during 1956 was around $6,000 because assessors couldn't keep track of the number of trailers in the county.

An advisory committee named by the governor would be provided in the trailer bill, and a $10 annual fee would be assessed on all trailer courts.

Re-Registering Cut

A requirement that voters in cities of 7,000 to 40,000 re-register every six years would be eliminated under terms of a bill introduced by Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont. Present law calls for such a re-registration.

The Simmons measure would establish the 1956 registration in the cities involved. Re-registration would not be required unless there was a change of name or address.

Cities affected by the re-registration bill, according to the 1950 census, include Alliance, Beatrice, Columbus, Fremont, Grand Island, Hastings, Kearney, Norfolk, North Platte, and Scottsbluff.

Pay Cops Training

Sen. Simmons joined with Sen. Harold B. Stryker of Rising City in a bill to authorize cities and villages to pay expenses of law officers at law enforcement institutes and training schools. Many cities and villages already do this.

Included in the training programs would be the annual Law Enforcement Institute jointly sponsored at the University of Nebraska by the extension division and the Police Officers Association of Nebraska.

Sen. August Wagner of Columbus introduced a measure that would limit the liability of parents to $5,000 for the destruction of property by their children. Present laws establish no liability limit on such destruction.

A requirement that first class cities must put to a vote any proposal to erect off-street parking facilities would be eliminated under terms of a bill introduced by Sens. Kathleen Fotte of Axtell, J. Monroe Bixler of Harrison, and David Tews of Norfolk.

Under terms of the bill, the mayor and city councils could establish the parking facilities by enacting ordinances.

Tax Free-For-All Begins Shaping Up

Combination Sales-Income Levy Measure Ready For Introduction

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A taxation free-for-all was in the making Wednesday as a combination sales-income tax bill was readied for introduction into the legislative hoppers.

Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney reported he is going to introduce his bill Thursday. He indicated additional sponsors may be added to his own name when the bill is tossed in.

The combination bill follows a strictly sales tax measure introduced Tuesday by Sens. Monroe Bixler, Don McGinley, and Willard Waldo.

Sen. Otto reported his measure, if passed and put into effect, would reduce property taxes by 50 per cent at the local level and would eliminate entirely the state's part in the property tax field. He said his bill would bring in about $26 million from the income tax basis and about $30 to $32 million a year from the sales tax.

Wants Exemption

The proposed introduction of the combination bill was preceded Wednesday by a report of Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth who will suggest an amendment to the Bixler-McGinley-Waldo measure. It would include all farm machinery purchases in the list of exemptions.

Present exemptions are livestock feeds, seeds, fertilizers, poults and fertilizers.

The income-sales tax, along with tax measures involving retail utility services and amusements introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, are expected to result in a general taxation free-for-all when the bills come up for committee consideration.

No Introducer Found

A pari-mutuel tax, as proposed by Lancaster County Commissioner Del Lienemann, as yet has not been introduced, mostly from lack of someone to put the measure before the Legislature.

As proposed, the sales-income tax measure would place a two per cent tax on tangible sales with no outstanding exemptions listed. Sen. Otto said, however, it would resemble in its workings the straight sales tax bill introduced Tuesday.

The income tax measure would apply a 10 per cent tax, for state use purposes, based on federal income tax returns.

The first 10 per cent of the tax income would provide administration costs—about two per cent of this figure—and the remaining money would be turned over to the University of Nebraska and the Normal Schools for their use.

90% To Counties

The remaining 90 per cent would be turned over to the counties in the state, on a population basis. This money in turn would be broken down with 10 per cent going into the county general fund; 60 per cent would go to the school districts on a student population basis, and 30 per cent would go to the cities and villages on a population basis.

Sen. Otto said the combination bill was prepared essentially in line with legislation backed by Lienemann, who was behind the measure introduced.

The straight sales tax measure would have resulted in a 15 to 20 per cent cut in property taxes, according to its introducers. Sen. Otto said the measure being prepared would equalize the tax load on a more equitable basis.

2 More Bills Sent To Floor

Two legislative bills, both lacking in controversy, were advanced to general file Wednesday in the first committee hearings held during the present session.

A bill, LB 1, allowing certain mail to be sent by certified rather than registered mail, was sent out of the Government Committee by unanimous vote.

Former Sen. Tom Coffey, who now is state purchasing agent, told the committee changing the classification would save the state annually $2,143 based on 1955-56 figures.

The bill was introduced by Sen. John Beaver of Beemer.

The other bill, LB 8, would extend to five years the statute of limitations against anyone violating laws under "Blue Sky Law" prosecutions in the state. The present limit is three years.

Neither measure was opposed.

Sending the bills to general file brought to four the number advanced. Rules of the Legislature were suspended to advance two others, both relating to costs of the Legislature and for salaries for the senators.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

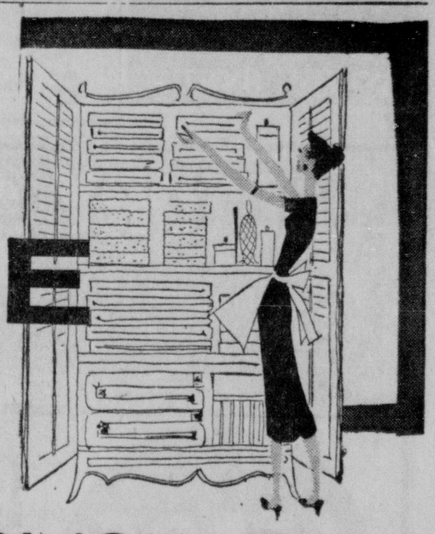

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! U.S. Ambassador At Cairo 'Concerned' About Jews In Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American embassador at Cairo has "expressed the concern of the American people and government" over the reported mistreatment of Jews in Egypt.

This was reported at the State Department Wednesday by press officer Lincoln White. He said Ambassador Raymond A. Hare has been in continuing contact with the government of President Gamal Abdel Nasser "and has urged the adoption of moderate policies."

White was asked whether the State Department possessed evidence of mistreatment of Jews in Egypt and replied that "such detail as we have" came from Jewish groups in the United States.

'Terror'

A shipload of 957 Jewish men, women and children arrived from Egypt at Naples, Italy, Sunday, and many of them said Egypt's 40,000 Jews were being subjected to "a planned campaign of terror."

Dispatches from Naples said about 100 of the 957 asked to go to variosus cou ries, but most of the rest were interested only in getting to Israel.

There have been reports of Egypt deporting Jews for weeks following the Israeli military attack on Egypt last fall.

Ambassador Hare is due in Washington from Cairo Sunday for consultation with Secretary of State Dulles and other officials.

Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) said in a statement Wednesday.

"Reports of discrimination and mistreatment of Jews in Egypt have given me great concern. I believe we should admit our fair share of legitimate victims of Egyptian oppression."

Case wrote Sen. Langer (R-ND), chairman of a Senate subcommittee on refugees and escapees, asking his help in obtaining the necessary legislation.

TRAINING FLIGHT COLLISION KILLS A LEADING JAPANESE JET PILOT

TOKYO (INS) — Japan lost one of its leading jet pilots Wednesday when Lt. Col. Masanobu Ibusuki, 41, was killed in a collision between two American-built F-86 Sabrejets of the Japanese Air Defense Force.

The pilot of the second plane, Maj. Gen. Hachiro Seyama, commander of Japan's Second Air Wing, parachuted to safety.

The collision took place during a training flight southwest of Tokyo.

Ibusuki was a pilot of one of the Japanese carrier planes that carried out the attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

A veteran of 3,000 flying hours, he joined the Air Defense Force in 1954 and was one of the first five Japanese pilots to receive jet flying instruction in the U.S. in 1955.

He informed Dr. Paul A. Zimmerman, president of Concordia, that he declined an "attractive offer" made to him by Valparaiso University in Indiana.

Marxhausen has gained considerable fame for his original ideas on the use of new media for art and for his lectures on art. He joined Concordia faculty in 1951.

U.S. Disregards Soviet Bitterness, Demands U.N. Group Probe On Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States disregarded mounting Soviet bitterness Wednesday and demanded creation of a special U. N. committee to seek out the truth on the Hungarian situation.

The Soviet Union blasted the United States for what it called continued efforts to sow strife in Hungary and criticized Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for allegedly taking sides with the West.

It was the Soviet Union's first attack against Hammarskjold on a major issue. The secretary general had recommended the appointment of a special U. N. committee to seek information on Hungary.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. called on the 80-nation General Assembly to adopt a resolution setting up a five-nation watchdog committee that could dig up facts anywhere and anytime they could be found.

He said, "adoption of this resolution will provide the Assembly with a means of insuring a flow of information on developments in Hungary."

The Hungarian delegation continued its boycott of the Assembly. Russian opposition showed the committee would not be admitted to Hungary.

The resolution was sponsored by the United States and 23 other nations. Additional support came from neutral Asia. Cuba criticized the resolution for not going far enough and for freezing the status quo in Hungary.

Lodge said the idea of an Assembly investigating committee developed naturally out of the failure of an earlier three-man observer team appointed by the secretary general.

Impossible

Hammarskjold reported that direct observations in Hungary, as requested in previous Assembly resolutions, seemed impossible in view of the lack of Hungarian and Soviet co-operation. He said the Assembly might want to undertake a broader investigation by setting up a committee.

"We believe that the members of the United Nations must continue to focus attention on the problem of Hungary," Lodge said. "The valiant Hungarians must not think they have been forgotten. Indeed, they must know that they will always be remembered so long as men prize human liberty."

The Soviet Union's Vassily V. Kuznetsov charged that an investigation committee would be illegal. He expressed regret that Hammarskjold suggested the idea.

Among Members

He said it appeared that Hammarskjold was "acting not as an international official but as a party in a dispute among members of the United Nations."

Ceylon's R.S.S. Gunewardene said Hammarskjold's actions should not have been questioned by the Soviet Union, since the U.N. has the right and duty to ferret out information to support its activities.

Emilio Nunez-Portuondo of Cuba, announced that his plans to introduce a resolution expelling the Hungarian delegates from the Assembly and calling for economic and political sanctions against the Soviet Union fell through for lack of support by U.N. member nations.

Wauneta Damage Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Curtis (R-Neb) Wednesday introduced a bill to compensate Wauneta, Neb., for damage to its water supply and sewage system caused by federal construction of the Enders Dam.

The bill calls for appointment of an arbitration group to determine the amount the government should pay Wauneta but limits payment to $82,500.

In another action, Curtis sought to prevent the deportation of a Chinese student to Communist China.

He introduced a bill to authorize American residence for Nelson Shu-Yung Chuang, a student at the University of Nebraska. The student has been in this country since September, 1954, and faces deportation unless Congress acts.

Youth Dies Before Realizing His Goal To Start Walking

LONG PINE, Neb. — Funeral services were held here for Robert Coen, 22 who halfway achieved a seven-year ambition to learn to walk again. He died in an Omaha hospital before his ambition could be completely fulfilled.

At the age of 14 Robert was on a hunting expedition when he was accidentally shot by a companion. Fragments of a .22 caliber bullet pierced his spine, causing paralysis from the waist down. He was in and out of hospitals for seven years, always with the thought that he would be able to walk again.

By the end of 1950 he had learned to get about with elbow crutches. But the paralysis which made these crutches necessary also caused a kidney malfunction.

Robert was readmitted to an Omaha hospital the day after Christmas. Pneumonia resulting from the kidney ailment caused his death.

Anderson Reports:

'Med College Hospital Must Keep Beds Open'

Gov. Victor Anderson said Wednesday night he would recommend in his budget message that the Legislature appropriate enough money to the University of Nebraska Medical College to keep the hospital full 201 beds in operation.

The governor made a tour of the medical college at Omaha Wednesday with Chancellor Clifford Hardin and met with Dean J. P. Tollman and the entire staff for a "first-hand look to determine their greatest needs."

Stating the importance of keeping the hospital beds all open, Anderson said "we have to provide for them in the budget."

The governor said he discussed budget problems with the staff and assured them that "we want a first-class medical hospital" but asked them to "explore every avenue to determine how they can get along with what the people can afford to pay."

The chief executive said the staff asurred him they would do that.

"They were wonderful," the governor commented, "and they gave me a lot of consideration."

Anderson said they also discussed transfer of money from the building fund to the general fund.

In his inaugural message, the governor suggested transferring $100,000 to the general fund to be used to reopen two wards in the hospital, which have been closed for lack of funds. Deal Tollman had first objected to this move.

Anderson asked college staff members to determine the "absolute minimum amount of money needed to operate the two wards for the rest of the biennium" and they told him he would get an answer Thursday.

Not Determined Amount

The governor said he has not yet determined the exact amount he will recommend for the University budget, but said it probably would include "these things they can't get along without: salary raises, pensions, increases in Social Security, keeping the full 201 beds in operation at the medical school and certain irrigation projects."

Dr. Tollman outlined the college's building program and the need for money to operate the college. The next phase of expansion, he said, will be to house classroom, laboratory and office facilities.

He said department heads now have their offices in converted sunrooms because of the space shortage.

Mixed Mart Rises Little

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, aircrafts and sugars rose while oils declined in Wednesday's irregular stock market.

Pivotal stocks registered gains or losses running from fractions to around $2 in moderate trading.

The market was higher most of the day, but not by much. Late in the session news of Prime Minister Eden's resignation brought a kind of creeping uncertainty, although the news had been well anticipated.

A number of gains were pared and losses taken during this period, but there was a definite trend toward improvement before the close.

Aside from this big piece of news there was nothing of great importance to impel prices either way and Wall Streeters said the market was still subject to technical considerations mainly.

A highlight of the session, however, was a spurt of heavy dealings in steel shares during which there was considerable gyrations. Again, no precise news was linked to this but anticipation of January earnings and dividend reports was said to be a factor.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at $181.20, with the industrials unchanged, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Volume totaled 2,330,000 shares, compared with 2,230,000 Tuesday.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregular on volume of 1,020,000 shares, compared with 1,100,000 Tuesday.

Grain Prices Close Higher; Corn Weak

CHICAGO (AP) — It was another slow and indecisive market on the Board of Trade Wednesday although a majority of grain futures ended higher.

Soybeans and rye showed the most strength, but it was nothing to get excited about. Corn was weakest but its losses never ran as much as a cent.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅝ higher, corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, oats ¼ lower to ¼ higher, rye ¾-1½ higher, soybeans ½-1⅛ higher and lard 17 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher.

At the finish old crop wheat futures were about a cent higher than they started. Hedging pressure was rather light after the first hour and the possibility of exports helped sustain the market.

In the early trade soybeans had a week undertone. But the scattered selling met a good resting order demand, a fact which caused the market to rebound.

A factor in soybean's firmness was an advance in soybean meal, which has been acting better than the oil this week. Apparently some meal has been sold for export. In the cash market meal was up 50 cents at $57.00 a ton.

There was no specific news behind the gain in rye, which was attributed in part to short covering.

Vine Church Approves Loan For Building

At the annual meeting of Vine Congregational Church Wednesday night, the congregation unanimously approved authorization of the board of trustees to borrow $25,000 from the Church Building Society of the Congregational-Christian Church.

The sum will be used for the construction of the new church building. The board will give mortgages for the loan.

Specifications on the church building, to be built across the street from the site of the parsonage at 1825 Twin Ridge Road, are expected from the architect by February and bids will be sought at that time.

Total expenditures of the church for 1956 were reported at $15,000 for current expenses and benevolences, plus $20,000 which was used for land development, paving and laying of sewer mains at the site of the new church and parsonage; and also for part of the construction of the parsonage which is being built now.

Standard Oil Co. Raises Wholesale Gas Price 1 Cent

Wholesale gas prices went up one cent a gallon in 15 midwestern states — including Nebraska — for Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) outlets.

The price hike also applies to domestic heating oils, kerosene, diesel fuels and related products.

The hike, which other major companies are expected to follow, was explained by Standard Oil officials as stemming from "crude oil price advances that stem from the crisis in the Middle East."

The price boost became effective midnight Wednesday.

The price increase, which had been anticipated since the announced increase of crude oil by producers, was listed as one of the causes of the ending of the "price war" in Lincoln, by local service station managers.

The bonds will be issued under the authority of the provisions of Section 8 of Article IX of the Home Rule Charter of the City of Lincoln, and the Bond Ordinance relating to this issue of bonds, to provide funds for the purpose of paying the cost of construction improvements and extensions to the water works system of the City of Lincoln. The bonds will be payable solely from the revenues of the water works system. The bond ordinance provides for the issuance of additional bonds under the conditions and limitations therein set forth and all bonds issued will be equally and ratably secured, provided, however that under the terms of the Charter which authorizes the issuance of the Water Revenue Bonds, not in excess of $8,500,000 of such bonds may be issued. Bonds in the amount of $6,000,000 were issued and sold under date of October 1, 1950.

Bidders are requested to name the interest rates not exceeding 4½% in multiples of ¼th of 1%. Each bidder must specify in his bid the amount and maturities of each rate and all bonds maturing the same date must bear interest at the same rate.

No bid of less than par and accrued interest or for less than all of the bonds offered will be entertained.

The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder offering such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest interest cost to the City over the life of the bonds, after deducting any premium. The phrase "life of the bonds" is hereby defined to mean the period the bonds will be outstanding from the date thereof to their respective maturity dates. The term "interest cost" is hereby defined to mean the aggregate cost of the interest payable on all of the bonds over the life of the bonds as above defined less the amount of any premium offered. The City reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids or to waive any defect in bids, at its sole discretion.

No specified form of bid is required except that each bid shall state: (1) the dollars of premium, if any to be paid in excess of par and accrued interest from December 1, 1956, (2) the dollars of gross interest cost on the entire issue for the stated period of the bond issue, (3) the dollars of net interest cost being the gross interest cost less premium, if any, (4) the calculation of gross interest cost and net interest cost expressed at a percentage, (5) the interest rate to be designated by the bidder for the respective annual bond maturities according to the schedule of maturities hereinabove set forth and (6) that the purchaser will supply the printed bonds at its own expense.

Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked on the outside, "Proposal for Water Revenue Bonds" and addressed to Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk, City Hall, Lincoln, Nebraska, and must be accompanied by a Certified or Bank Cashier's Check for $40,000, payable unconditionally to the order of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, on which no interest will be allowed. The checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly. The check of the successful bidder will be held uncashed as security for the performance of his bid, but if and as the successful bidder shall fail to comply with the terms of his bid the check will then be cashed and the proceeds thereof retained as and for full liquidated damages.

The purchaser must supply the printed bonds at its own expense and the bids must so specify, and delivery of bonds shall be made on or before March 1, 1957, at such bank, or trust company in the City of Chicago, Illinois, as may be mutually agreeable to the purchaser and the city.

The unqualified approving legal opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Chicago, Illinois, will be furnished without cost to the purchaser of the bonds.

Britain, France Press Dag For New Talks On Suez Settlement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain and France, irked at what they complain are Egyptian delaying tactics, were reported Wednesday pressing Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for new talks at an early date on a Suez settlement.

Christian Pineau, French foreign minister who saw Hammarskjold, was said by French sources to be especially angry at alleged delays in clearing the Suez Canal. He was reported to have insisted that new talks be held even before the canal has been cleared for its first convoy, now scheduled by the U.N. for some time in early March.

The British top delegate here, Cmdr. Allan Noble, conferred with Hammarskjold regarding the method to be used in the new talks, a British spokesman said.

The two high diplomats met Hammarskjold before the resignation of British Prime Minister Anthony Eden was announced. Informed sources here said, however, the resignation made no difference in the British-French view that talks must be held soon on the Suez Canal.

To See Dulles

Pineau made an appointment with Secretary of State Dulles at 3 p.m. Friday for a far-ranging conversation on all Middle East Problems.

It was reported that Pineau will urge Dulles to do his best to get Hammarskjold started on new Suez talks. However, diplomatic sources said the United States likely will let Hammarskjold decide when to start the conversations.

Pineau also is expected to ask what impact the Eisenhower Middle Eastern doctrine will have on Egypt, how it will be implemented and how Israel's borders can be guaranteed against attacks.

The Egyptian foreign minister, Mahmoud Fawzi, had nothing to say on the Eden resignation nor on the possibility of Suez talks. But Egyptians here and in Cairo continued to insist they will not negotiate directly or indirectly with the British and Frence because, they said, of the British-French invasion of Egypt.

Dag Plans

This may not hold up the conversations, however, for Hammarskjold was reported planning to see each delegation separately and in private in the early stages.

Fawzi, meanwhile, was pushing Hammarskjold and other U.N. delegates for the earliest possible withdrawal of Israeli forces from the remainder of the Sinai Peninsule, and the Gaza Strip.

Israel continued its negotiations with U.N. officials on the next phase of the withdrawal. Israel has halted at El Arish, a former Egyptian military base in the Sinai.

Israel is expected to report to Hammarskjold next Monday on the withdrawal.

U.S. Envoy Talks Middle East Plan With Egypt Chief

CAIRO (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare met President Nasser Wednesday reportedly to discuss details of President Eisenhower's Middle East policy before Hare goes to Washington for talks on Saturday.

After the 2½ hour meeting, Hare told newsmen: "You can judge by the length of the meeting that we have discussed everything."

Asked if this included the Eisenhower Middle East plan, Hare replied: "Everything."
